THE CITY POLICE MADE NEW RECORD

Just One Hundred and Thirteen
Offenders Were Gathered In During Last Month.

A SALOON WAS RAIDED

Seven People Will Contribute to
the City Fund For Breaking
the Law.

IT IS A VERY GOOD MOVE

Another record has been smashed
at police court, and from September
1 to 30 the police department have gathered in just 113 offenders, beating
the record for July by a few.

Brady Larkins has been wanted by the police force for some time. He participated in a scrap several weeks
ago in which an Irishman named Da-
laney almost lost his right eye by being kicked.

Chief Thompson met him up town
Saturday evening and informed him he was wanted by the mayor. He started down the street with the officer, and
when near the city hall broke away
and ran down the street with the chief
in hot pursuit. Thompson's lack of training told on him and he didn't gain
much. Larkins turned down Washington street and made for the river.
When he reached that point he got in-
to a skiff and rowed out into the river.
He had but one oar, and did not make
good progress. Brady was finally captured by the chief and Officer Dawson.
Sunday morning he was fined $7 60,
which was paid by his employer.

Mitch Phillips was arrested Sunday
afternoon by Officer Morris on a charge of intoxication. He was assessed $5 60 by Mayor Davidson and
paid the amount.

W. A. Race was arrested Saturday
night by Chief Thompson. A charge
of intoxication was placed against
him. The mayor relieved him of $5 60.

Officer Davidson found Jack Farmer near the depot Saturday night,
and he was drunk. He was arraigned Sunday morning on a charge of intoxication and Mayor Davidson fined
him $5 60. He arranged for the payment of the fine.

Chief Thompson, assisted by Officers
Gill, Dawson and Davidson, made a
raid on the saloon conducted by Mike
O'Malley on Broadway, and found a nice layout inside. The officers made their appearance about 4 o'clock and
had no trouble in gaining access to
the place.

Seven men were found loitering in
the saloon and all gave security for their appearance this evening. They
were: John Bloor, James Frank,
William Banams, James Ivory, Albert
Madden, Harry Lloyd and Earl Wil-
burn.

The police went to Dutch Frank's
and Pomer Anderson's saloons yesterday, but made water hauls, as they
found no person in either saloon.

Ike Gourley, of the street force,
went for a clean shirt Friday evening
and has not been seen since. This is three absentees, and it is very likely
they will wish they had remained at
work by the time the mayor gets
through with them.

COUNCIL IN SESSION.

THE BIDS FOR PAVING TRENT-
VALE STREET WERE OPENED.

A Good Premium Was Received for
the Sewer
Bonds.

Council met in special session at
city hall at 1 o'clock with the following members present: Marshall,
Nice, Cripps, Smith, Peach, Arnold,
McHenry, Heddlestone.

Bids improving Trentvale street
were opened and were as follows:

J. O. Rinehart, excavation, 40c;
curb, 52c; paving, $1 25.

Ryan & Rinehart, excavation, 40c;
curb, 50c; paving $1 22.

McKinnon Avenue.

Ryan & Rinehart, grading, 28c per cubic yard; John Lutton 24½c per
cubic yard.

The premiums for the $10,000 worth
of sewer bonds were as follows:

70; Rudolph Kleybolte & Co., Cincinnati, $571; W. R. Todd & Co., Cincinnati, $460; Feder, Holzmann & Co.,
Cincinnati, $501 25; W. J. Hayes &
Co., Cleveland, $563; Potters National bank, East Liverpool, $468; Dennison,
Prior & Co., Cleveland, $471.

The bonds were awarded to Rudolph Kley bolte & Co., $571.

Ryan & Rinehart being the lowest
bidder on the improvement of Trent-
vale street Mr. Peach moved they be granted the contract. Nice seconded.

McHenry raised the question whether the improvement could be completed before the bad weather came
on. Nice stated it could be finished
in two weeks.

Contractor Rinehart said it would not take long, as the grading was all
done.

The vote was then taken, resulting
in Arnold, Cripps, Heddlestone, Mc-
Henry and Smith voting no, and Peach, Marshall and Nice yes, losing
the motion by a vote of 5 to 3.

Nice wanted to know, since council
was not disposed to provide for the improvement of the thoroughfare,
what they proposed to do toward the
accommodation of the people out
there, as there were no walks of any sort.

On motion it was decided to instruct the street commissioner to make a cinder path.

James Rinehart was granted the
contract for improving Church alley
from Union street to Broadway.

Council then adopted a new plat of
lots situated on the Anderson property, Lisbon road. The name of the new plan is Edgewood.

John Lutton will grade McKinnon
avenue, and is to receive 24½ cents
per cubic foot for the work.

CHRISTIAN MINISTERS

Ring Out Hot Denunciations
Against the Dominant Liquor
Traffic

AND THE SALOON ELEMENT

The Red Flag, Indicative of Pesti-
lence, as Represented by
the Brewers.

OLD GLORY WAS DEBAUCHED

There was no uncertain sound in
the denunciations set forth from the
pulpits of East Liverpool on Sunday, September 30, 1900, respecting the
liquor traffic, the saloons and the late
so-called brewery parade in this city.
Dr. Crawford, pastor of the First M.
E. church, said in part:

"There have been indications of a pestilence in our midst lately. The red flag indicates the existence of a pestilence and gives warning to the people. Red flags were numerous on our thoroughfares the other day. You know what I mean. You know that I have reference to the disgraceful
parade made by the brewery interests
of this community. It is to the credit of our citizens that so few of them
patronized the disgraceful affair. One prominent official of this city, a man
who makes no secret of the fact
that he favors the saloon, said of this
parade and so-called jubilee:

"It was a great mistake on the part
of the men most interested. Somebody blundered fearfully. Why, you might as well have flaunted a red flag
in the face of an infuriated bull, as
to have flung out this insult in the face of the temperance people of the
city, following so closely upon the
heels of the very peculiar election held
here lately."

"It was shameful that our emblem
of liberty was flung out over the ranks
of such a parade. It was a disgrace
to Old Glory, supposed to represent liberty, truth and right. It was a slander upon our colors and upon our boys who fight under its folds. Slavery was a curse upon our nation, but
rum is a still greater curse. We glory
in the fact that we, as Christians, are enemies of the liquor demon. We are glad to be arrayed against this awful evil. And the enemies of righteousness recognized this fact when
they nailed their flags or advertisements upon the doors of the United
Presbyterian church and the First M.
E. church. They intended it as an insult. We accept it as a compliment.
We want no affiliation with the ac-
cursed traffic. I believe that the traffic will be driven from our land. I believe this as firmly as I believe in
this dear old book, the word of God.
If I did not believe that this awful
evil shall be destroyed in this nation,
I could not believe in this book. The rum traffic shall be destroyed, and
may God speed the day."

The sentiments of Dr. Crawford met
with warm response from his people,
and hearty "amens" resounded all over
the church as he called upon God to
speed the day.

Rev. W. H. Gladden's sermon yesterday morning in the Methodist Protestant church was from the text:
"In the name of our God we will set
up our banners," Psalm 20:5.

He began by showing the large part

banners have had in human affairs
in all time. Describing how they have defined contending forces throughout
the history of the world. Warming
to his subject the pastor referred to
the hoisting of banners in our city
and Wellsville last week in glorifica-
tion of the new brewery planted in
our community, over which was placed the Star Spangled Banner of our country; sanctified by the blood of
our brave fathers, sons and brothers.
He declared this to be not only an insult to our city, but a disgrace to
the old flag and a reproach to those who had given their lives for it. The young ladies of Wellsville, who are reported to have torn down the peculiar looking banners sent out over
that town, he applauded them, but
said it will do little good. The girls
were too late in expressing their disgust and that this was not the best
way to oppose the gigantic evil.

The nailing of newspaper advertisements of the proposed orgies upon two
of the prominent churches of the city
he declared was what might have
been expected, and was of a piece
with the whole insulting program, and
he further believed that if these people could have their way in full, our churches would all be changed into
breweries and a monument erected
in honor of Bacchanal. He reached
a climax when, with strong feeling,
he described the attracting of little
children into the moral cesspool and
fastening upon their clothes a button
containing a picture of the shameful
place, one of them being his own little daughter, who, in her innocence,
proudly displayed the thing to her father. He said he also noticed one
of these badges of shame worn by
a small child in a company of children at a funeral recently.

Continuing, he appealed to the
large congregation present to arouse
to a sense of their danger, for, he
said, these people are in earnest,
deadly earnest, and shall we sit down
and allow them to take our town.
"See the mighty host advancing,
Satan leading on;
Mighty men around us falling,
Courage almost gone."

Saturday evening and informed him he
was wanted by the mayor. He started
down the street with the officer, and
when near the city hall broke away
and ran down the street with the chief
in hot pursuit. Thompson's lack of training told on him and he didn't gain
much. Larkins turned down Washing-
ton street and made for the river.
When he reached that point he got in-
to a skiff and rowed out into the river.
He had but one oar, and did not make
good progress. Brady was finally captured by the chief and Officer Dawson.
Sunday morning he was fined $7 60,
which was paid by his employer.

Mitch Phillips was arrested Sunday
afternoon by Officer Morris on a charge of intoxication. He was assessed $5 60 by Mayor Davidson and
paid the amount.

W. A. Race was arrested Saturday
night by Chief Thompson. A charge
of intoxication was placed against
him. The mayor relieved him of

Officer Davidson found Jack Farmer near the depot Saturday night,
and he was drunk. He was arraigned Sunday morning on a charge of intoxication and Mayor Davidson fined
him $5 60. He arranged for the payment of the fine.

Chief Thompson, assisted by Officers
Gill, Dawson and Davidson, made a
raid on the saloon conducted by Mike
O'Malley on Broadway, and found a
nice layout inside. The officers made
their appearance about 4 o'clock and
had no trouble in gaining access to
the place.

Seven men were found loitering in
were: John Bloor, James Frank,
William Banams, James Ivory, Albert
Madden, Harry Lloyd and Earl Wil-
burn.

The police went to Dutch Frank's
and Poker Anderson's saloons yester-
day, but made waterhauls, as they
found no person in either saloon.

Ike Gourley, of the street force,
went for a clean shirt Friday evening
and has not been seen since. This is
three absentees, and it is very likely
they will wish they had remained at
work by the time the mayor gets
through with them.

THE BIDS FOR PAVING TRENT-
VALE STREET WERE OPENED.

A Good Premium Was Received for
the Sewer
Bonds.

Council met in special session at
city hall at 1 o'clock with the following members present: Marshall,
Nice, Cripps, Smith, Peach, Arnold,
McHenry, Heddlestone.

Bids improving Trentvale street
were opened and were as follows:

J. O. Rinehart, excavation, 40c;
curb, 52c; paving, $1 25.

Ryan & Rinehart, excavation, 40c;
curb, 50c; paving $1 22.

McKinnon Avenue.

Ryan & Rinehart, grading, 28c per cubic yard; John Lutton 24½c per
cubic yard.

The premiums for the $10,000 worth
of sewer bonds were as follows:

Lamprecht Bros., Cleveland, $515-
70; Rudolph Kleybolte & Co., Cincinnati, $571; W. R. Todd & Co., Cincinnati, $460; Feder, Holzmann & Co.,
Cincinnati, $501 25; W. J. Hayes &
Co., Cleveland, $563; Potters National
bank, East Liverpool, $468; Dennison,
Prior & Co., Cleveland, $471.

The bonds were awarded to Ru-
dolph Kley bolte & Co., $571.

Ryan & Rinehart being the lowest
bidder on the improvement of Trent-
vale street Mr. Peach moved they be granted the contract. Nice seconded.

McHenry raised the question whether the improvement could be completed before the bad weather came
on. Nice stated it could be finished
in two weeks.

Contractor Rinehart said it would
not take long, as the grading was all
done.

The vote was then taken, resulting
in Arnold, Cripps, Heddlestone, Mc-
Henry and Smith voting no, and Peach, Marshall and Nice yes, losing
the motion by a vote of 5 to 3.

Nice wanted to know, since council
was not disposed to provide for the
improvement of the thoroughfare,
what they proposed to do toward the
accommodation of the people out
sort.

On motion it was decided to instruct the street commissioner to
make a cinder path.

James Rinehart was granted the
contract for improving Church alley
from Union street to Broadway.

Council then adopted a new plat of
lots situated on the Anderson property, Lisbon road. The name of the new plan is Edgewood.

John Lutton will grade McKinnon
avenue, and is to receive 24½ cents
per cubic foot for the work.

CHRISTIAN MINISTERS

Ring Out Hot Denunciations
Against the Dominant Liquor
Traffic

AND THE SALOON ELEMENT

The Red Flag, Indicative of Pesti-
lence, as Represented by
the Brewers.

OLD GLORY WAS DEBAUCHED

There was no uncertain sound in
the denunciations set forth from the
pulpits of East Liverpool on Sunday,
September 30, 1900, respecting the
liquor traffic, the saloons and the late
so-called brewery parade in this city.
Dr. Crawford, pastor of the First M.
E. church, said in part:

"There have been indications of a
pestilence in our midst lately. The
red flag indicates the existence of a
pestilence and gives warning to the
people. Red flags were numerous on
our thoroughfares the other day. You know what I mean. You know that I have reference to the disgraceful
parade made by the brewery interests
of this community. It is to the cred-
it of our citizens that so few of them
patronized the disgraceful affair. One
prominent official of this city, a man
who makes no secret of the fact
that he favors the saloon, said of this
parade and so-called jubilee:

of the men most interested. Somebody blundered fearfully. Why, you
might as well have flaunted a red flag
in the face of an infuriated bull, as
to have flung out this insult in the
face of the temperance people of the
city, following so closely upon the
here lately."

"It was shameful that our emblem
of liberty was flung out over the ranks
of such a parade. It was a disgrace
to Old Glory, supposed to represent
liberty, truth and right. It was a slander upon our colors and upon our
boys who fight under its folds. Sla-
very was a curse upon our nation, but
rum is a still greater curse. We glory
in the fact that we, as Christians, are
enemies of the liquor demon. We
are glad to be arrayed against this
awful evil. And the enemies of righteousness recognized this fact when
they nailed their flags or advertisements upon the doors of the United
Presbyterian church and the First M.
E. church. They intended it as an insult. We accept it as a compliment.
We want no affiliation with the ac-
cursed traffic. I believe that the traffic will be driven from our land. I believe this as firmly as I believe in
this dear old book, the word of God.
If I did not believe that this awful
evil shall be destroyed in this nation,
I could not believe in this book. The
rum traffic shall be destroyed, and
may God speed the day."

The sentiments of Dr. Crawford met
with warm response from his people,
and hearty "amens" resounded all over
the church as he called upon God to
speed the day.

Rev. W. H. Gladden's sermon yesterday morning in the Methodist Pro-
testant church was from the text:
"In the name of our God we will set
up our banners," Psalm 20:5.

He began by showing the large part

banners have had in human affairs
in all time. Describing how they have
defined contending forces throughout
the history of the world. Warming
to his subject the pastor referred to
the hoisting of banners in our city
and Wellsville last week in glorifica-
tion of the new brewery planted in
our community, over which was placed the Star Spangled Banner of our
country; sanctified by the blood of
our brave fathers, sons and brothers.
He declared this to be not only an
insult to our city, but a disgrace to
the old flag and a reproach to those
who had given their lives for it. The
young ladies of Wellsville, who are
reported to have torn down the peculiar looking banners sent out over
that town, he applauded them, but
said it will do little good. The girls
were too late in expressing their dis-
gust and that this was not the best
way to oppose the gigantic evil.

The nailing of newspaper advertisements of the proposed orgies upon two
of the prominent churches of the city
he declared was what might have
been expected, and was of a piece
with the whole insulting program, and
he further believed that if these people could have their way in full, our
churches would all be changed into
breweries and a monument erected
in honor of Bacchanal. He reached
a climax when, with strong feeling,
he described the attracting of little
children into the moral cesspool and
fastening upon their clothes a button
containing a picture of the shameful
place, one of them being his own little daughter, who, in her innocence,
proudly displayed the thing to her
father. He said he also noticed one
of these badges of shame worn by
a small child in a company of children at a funeral recently.

Continuing, he appealed to the
large congregation present to arouse
to a sense of their danger, for, he
said, these people are in earnest,
deadly earnest, and shall we sit down
and allow them to take our town.
"See the mighty host advancing,
Satan leading on;
Mighty men around us falling,
Courage almost gone."

MEETING AT STEUBENVILLE

Senator Pritchard Made a Ringing
Speech, Full of Good Points

OPERA HOUSE WAS PACKED

Peculiar Methods Hold Control In
Some of the Southern States.

THE NEGRO VOTE BLOCKED

There were six coaches on hand at the depot on Saturday night last for the purpose of taking the excursionists to Steubenville. The attendance from this point was much lighter than had been anticipated, and Wellsville had a very light addition to the crowd. But Toronto and Empire responded in the right manner, and a large delegation landed from the train at Steubenville, where the streets were crowded with excursioners from various points, while brass bands made merry music, and the marching clubs attracted general attention, especially the Rough Riders, who were clad in handsome khaki uniforms.

C. H. Blazer, of East Liverpool, is an old acquaintance of Senator Pritchard, the two gentlemen hailing from Ashville, North Carolina. Mr. Blazer led the way to the Lowe House and introduced Messrs. Owens, Hill and the writer to Senator Pritchard and Minister Barrett, the visitors receiving a hearty reception. Pritchard is a fine looking man, standing fully six feet in his stockings, and weighing over 200 pounds. Barrett is tall and slender, full of vim, snap and fire, and courteous and agreeable in the extreme.

The opera house was packed when the speakers made their appearance. Hon. J. Dunbar introduced Pritchard in a neat speech, heartily applauded, the ladies, of whom there were many present, joining in the hand clapping. The speaker said in part:

"I notice many ladies present, and I feel safe and secure under such circumstances. As a rule, the cause is right which has the sanction and approval of good women, and this occasion is no exception to the rule. I am glad to meet you, ladies. (Cries of 'good for you, senator—good point.') I shall deal with politics tonight as with individuals, as political life is embraced in an aggregation of individuals, professing certain principles. In 1892 we gave this country to the Democracy, congress and all the people wanted a change, and they got it with a vengeance. Democracy took charge of this nation under the most favorable circumstances, and they ended their control in giving the country unexampled stagnation of business and commercial disaster. The Democratic cabinet demonstrated the fact, beyond successful contradiction, that they knew next to nothing about business principle or the proper handling of a circulating medium. There was one hundred million dollars in gold in the reserve fund when they took charge, every dollar worth 100 cents. The currency barometer started downward, and it seemed to droop and wither every time a Democrat breathed upon it. That Democratic cabinet was forced to borrow the sum of $265,000,000 in order to keep that reserve intact and run the government in any kind of decent shape; you are aware of the fact that they did not dare touch the reserve fund, as a Republican administration had made such a measure impossible—had taken care of your funds and of my funds.

What was the business result? Investors became scared and investments were withdrawn; the price of farmers' products went down, down, down; laboring men everywhere were thrown out of employment; soup houses became necessary for the feeding of the hungry people; men patronized these places who had never before dreamed of such a necessity or humiliation; the pangs of hunger are awful and the craving appetite must be satisfied; the people had a change, an awful change, and they awakened to the fact when it was too late. Do you want another such change. Do you want another lesson respecting the conditions which control under Democratic rule? (Cries of no, no, we do not, and we don't intend to have it.) Business and professional men on every hand met with reverses—went down in the common ruin. You know this to be the truth, plain and unvarnished, and it is an awfully sad and forbidding picture. You know the conditions which existed in 1896. The masses wanted another change, and they wanted it all over. (A voice, in stentorian tones: 'And they got it, good and hard, and they liked it to the queen's taste.') Bryan paramounted silver. You know he's great on the paramount, is Billy Jennings Bryan. Silver, in Billy's estimation, was the only thing which would save the republic from ruin. Have you read Billy's predictions respecting Kansas, given in 1896? In the light of unexampled prosperity, Billy's predictions at that time are excruciatingly funny. He predicted that, in case McKinley and a Republican administration should be elected, the nation would go to the demnition bow-wows in the ensuing four years; disaster would ensue on every hand, men could not find employment at any price, and misery and starvation would rule everywhere. In the light of unexampled prosperity and blessings which have controlled this whole nation during the four years specified, Billy's prophecies are the trashiest kind of trash; and the poor fellow is engaged again in talking about on the same line, but under the shadow of misrepresentation and subterfuge. Billy is a calamity howler. Figures talk. Here they are. Before Democracy took charge the per capita was $24 50; when Democracy was forced to relinquish its grip on the government it had gone down to $21 50; in the month of July, 1900, under Republican administration, it reached the magnificent figures of $26 80.

Have you heard of our state banks? The old Timers have. In our own state the money was worth 50 cents on the dollar; in an adjoining state it was worth 25 cents; and when you went over into Tillman's state they would kick you over the border line when you offered it in payment. That was good old Democratic state bank money. Then they had good Democratic money in the south later on, known as scrip, when it cost you one thousand dollars for a good square meal. An officer rode a fine horse, nicely equipped; a bystander wanted to know what sum would buy him. His owner asked for a bid, and reply was made: "I'll give you five thousand dollars." The owner looked the bidder over and sneeringly said: "What's the matter with you? I gave a nigger six thousand dollars to curry that mare this morning."

Now to you farmers Republican rule means much. It means millions of dollars in your coffers, and you know it. You have had bitter experience under Democratic rule, and a burned child dreads the fire. Talk about the sheep industry; if the Democrats had held control for four years more, there wouldn't have been a sheep in the state of Ohio. You are getting almost 50 per cent more for your wool than you did under Democracy. Let me tell you an experience of mine. I was riding along in our section when I noticed a farmer busily engaged in shearing a sheep. I was astonished to find him starting at the hind leg, as I had always seen our shearers start at the head of the animal, and I naturally asked him the reason for this peculiar shearing. He looked up from his work and said: "Pritchard, I voted for the Wilson-Gorman bill, and I've actually been ashamed, ever since, to look a sheep in the face." (Long continued applause and hand-clapping, many being farmers among the audience.)

My friends, that full dinner pail argument hit Billy Bryan and his followers very hard. He couldn't overcome it in any reasonable or fair manner, and so he piteously said: "You insult the American workingman when you say he is controlled through his stomach, through the thought of a full dinner pail or a full meal." Do we, my friends? Do we insult the best men in the nation, our hope and dependence? Nay, verily, we do him honor in the thought of that full dinner pail, as it is a sure sign of comfort, ease and happiness at home; comfort and plenty for wife, children and self.

Bryan talks about imperialism. My friends, McKinley dreaded war and did all he could to avoid it. Bryan and his backers taunted the president as a weakling and branded him as a coward. They wanted to make political capital. But McKinley is a strong, stalwart and good man, and he would have stood out against all clamor of politicians had not the destruction of the Maine and her gallant and heroic crew ensued; and that act brought on war, and Spain has had time to be sorry. And now the very men who were then clamoring for war are shouting "imperialism" and "dictator" at our grand president. "Consistency thou art a jewel."

That war united the nation. "Yankee Doodle" and "Dixie" sounded over northern and southern soldier alike. Lee, Shafter and Wheeler taught the haughty and overbearing Dons a lesson. The ratification of the treaty of peace was signed by Democrats and Republicans alike. William Jennings Bryan hastened to Washington and used all of his influence in the obtaining of Democratic votes in favor of that ratification. And now I say to you that the flag would not have been fired upon at Manila by the insurgents had not the Democrats of the nation urged them to do so; and I hold Democracy responsible for every drop of blood shed in the war with the Filipinos; every drop of blood shed by the insurgents, and every drop of blood shed by American soldiers. There is no use in mincing matters. This is the plain truth, and it should ring out all over the nation.

Bryan and Democracy cry out for the rights of Aguinaldo and his insurgent followers in the Philippines, and then deliberately rob the black man in Carolina of the same rights, an exact contradiction. They take your pedigree in North Carolina when you vote, and go back to your grandfather, in order to bar the black man from the ballot. Men of the nation, we should have the manhood to do one of two things, either wipe out the fourteenth and fifteenth amendment or enforce them. Down south they count the negro's vote in the Federal enumeration, thus giving them power in the electoral college or vote, and then deny him the ballot as an individual; and when they do so they commit an outrage against Ohio and rob you of your rights in this state. No sane man will dare attempt to deny this statement, for it is a plain statement of existent fact.

"Talk about us being afraid of negro domination in North Carolina. I am chairman of the Republican executive committee in our western part of North Carolina. We find the black man in our section docile and tracta-

ble, behaving himself well if let alone; further, the white voters are double in number to those of the black voters. In our section, no Democrat dares to interfere with the ballot of the black man; we would not permit such interference. In the eastern part of our state they not only steal his vote, but, as I have said, they rob you by means of a false federal enumeration.

And I will say, right here, that if I succeed in having the vote in North Carolina counted as it is cast, North Carolina will as surely go for McKinley in next November as will your state of Ohio.

If you mind nothing else in this rambling talk, mind the words I now use. Don't be over confident. Don't be idle. Talk, work and vote for McKinley and Roosevelt. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Our aim is to give McKinley the biggest majority ever given to any president in the history of the nation. Good night.

[Space forbids the publication of Minister Barrett's speech in today's issue. Read it in tomorrow's issue of the News Review. Barrett can tell you more about Aguinaldo than any other man living. He was with Lawton. He held Colonel Stotzenberg's head upon his knee as that gallant officer gave his last message to the American people. Read Barrett's remarks in tomorrow's issue.]

In the light of unexampled prosperity, Billy's predictions at that time are excruciatingly funny. He predicted that, in case McKinley and a Republican administration should be elected, the nation would go to the demitition bow-wows in the ensuing four years; disaster would ensue on every hand, men could not find employment at any price, and misery and starvation would rule everywhere. In the light of unexampled prosperity and blessings which have controlled this whole nation during the four years specified, Billy's prophecies are the trashiest kind of trash; and the poor fellow is engaged again in talking about on the same line, but under the shadow of misrepresentation and subterfuge. Billy is a calamity howler. Figures talk. Here they are. Before Democracy took charge the per capita was $24 50; when Democracy was forced to relinquish its grip on the government it had gone down to $21 50; in the month of July, 1900, under Republican administration, it reached the magnificent figures of $26 80.

Have you heard of our state banks? The old Timers have. In our own state the money was worth 50 cents on the dollar; in an adjoining state it was worth 25 cents; and when you went over into Tillman's state they would kick you over the border line when you offered it in payment. That

Now to you farmers Republican rule means much. It means millions of dollars in your coffers, and you know it. You have had bitter experience under Democratic rule, and a burned child dreads the fire. Talk about the sheep industry; if the Democrats had held control for four years more, there wouldn't have been a sheep in the state of Ohio. You are getting almost 50 per cent more for your wool than you did under Democracy. Let me tell you an experience of mine. I was riding along in our section when I noticed a farmer busily engaged in shearing a sheep. I was astorished to find him starting at the hind leg, as I had always seen our shearers start at the head of the animal, and I naturally asked him the reason for this peculiar shearing. He looked up from his work and said: "Pritchard, I voted for the Wilson-Gorman bill, and I've actually been ashamed, ever since, to look a sheep in the face." (Long continued applause and hand-clapping, many being farmers among the audience.)

My friends, that full dinner pail argument hit Billy Bryan and his followers very hard. He couldn't overcome it in any reasonable or fair manner, and so he piteously said: "You insult the American workingman when you say he is controlled through his stomach, through the thought of a full dinner pail or a full meal." Do we, my friends? Do we insult the best men in the nation, our hope and dependence? Nay, verily, we do him honor in the thought of that full dinner pail, as it is a sure sign of comfort, ease and happiness at home; comfort and plenty for wife, children and self.

Bryan talks about imperialism. My friends, McKinley dreaded war and did all he could to avoid it. Bryan and his backers taunted the president as a weakling and branded him as a coward. They wanted to make political capital. But McKinley is a strong, stalwart and good man, and he would have stood out against all clamor of politicians had not the destruction of the Maine and her gallant and heroic crew ensued; and that act brought on war, and Spain has had time to be sorry. And now the very men who were then clamoring for war are shouting "imperialism" and "dictator" at our grand president." "Consistency thou art a jewel."

That war united the nation. "Yankee Doodle" and "Dixie" sounded over northern and southern soldier alike. Lee, Shafter and Wheeler taught the haughty and overbearing Dons a lesson. The ratification of the treaty of peace was signed by Democrats and Republicans alike. William Jennings Bryan hastened to Washington and used all of his influence in the obtaining of Democratic votes in favor of that ratification. And now I say to you that the flag would not have been fired upon at Manila by the insurgents had not the Democrats of the nation urged them to do so; and I hold Democracy responsible for every drop of blood shed in the war with the Filipinos; every drop of blood shed by the insurgents, and every drop of blood shed by American soldiers. There is no use in mincing matters. This is the plain truth, and it should ring out all over the nation.

Bryan and Democracy cry out for the rights of Aguinaldo and his insurgent followers in the Philippines, and then deliberately rob the black man in Carolina of the same rights, an exact contradiction. They take your pedigree in North Carolina when you vote, and go back to your grandfather, in order to bar the black man from the ballot. Men of the nation, we should have the manhood to do one of two things, either wipe out the fourteenth and fifteenth amendment or enforce them. Down south they count the negro's vote in the Federal enumeration, thus giving them power in the electoral college or vote, and then deny him the ballot as an individual; and when they do so they commit an outrage against Ohio and rob you of your rights in this state. No sane man will dare attempt to deny this statement, for it is a plain statement of existent fact.

"Talk about us being afraid of negro domination in North Carolina. I am chairman of the Republican executive committee in our western part of North Carolina. We find the black man in our section docile and tracta-

ble, behaving himself well if let alone; further, the white voters are double in number to those of the black voters. In our section, no Democrat dares to interfere with the ballot of the black man; we would not permit such interference. In the eastern part of our state they not only steal his vote, but, as I have said, they rob you by means of a false federal enumeration.

And I will say, right here, that if I succeed in having the vote in North Carolina counted as it is cast, North Carolina will as surely go for McKinley in next November as will your state of Ohio.

If you mind nothing else in this rambling talk, mind the words I now use. Don't be over confident. Don't be idle. Talk, work and vote for McKinley and Roosevelt. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Our aim is to give McKinley the biggest majority ever given to any president in the history of the nation. Good night.

MEETING AT STEUBENVILLE

Senator Pritchard Made a Ringing
Speech, Full of Good
Points

Peculiar Methods Hold Control In
Some of the Southern States.

THE NEGRO VOTE BLOCKED

There were six coaches on hand at the depot on Saturday night last for the purpose of taking the excursionists to Steubenville. The attendance from this point was much lighter than had been anticipated, and Wellsville had a very light addition to the crowd. But Toronto and Empire responded in the right manner, and a large delegation landed from the train at Steubenville, where the streets were crowded with excursioners from various points, while brass bands made merry music, and the marching clubs attracted general attention, especially the Rough Riders, who were clad in handsome khaki uniforms.

C. H. Blazer, of East Liverpool, is an old acquaintance of Senator Pritchard, the two gentlemen hailing from Ashville, North Carolina. Mr. Blazer led the way to the Lowe House and introduced Messrs. Owens, Hill and the writer to Senator Pritchard and Minister Barrett, the visitors receiving a hearty reception. Pritchard is a fine looking man, standing fully six feet in his stockings, and weighing over 200 pounds. Barrett is tall and slender, full of vim, snap and fire, and courteous and agreeable in the extreme.

The opera house was packed when the speakers made their appearance. Hon. J. Dunbar introduced Pritchard in a neat speech, heartily applauded, the ladies, of whom there were many present, joining in the hand clapping. The speaker said in part:

"I notice many ladies present, and I feel safe and secure under such circumstances. As a rule, the cause is right which has the sanction and approval of good women, and this occasion is no exception to the rule. I am glad to meet you, ladies. (Cries of 'good for you, seantor—good point.') I shall deal with politics tonight as with individuals, as political life is embraced in an aggregation of individuals, professing certain principles. In 1892 we gave this country to the Democracy, congress and all. The people wanted a change, and they got it with a vengeance. Democracy took charge of this nation under the most favorable circumstances, and they ended their control in giving the country unexampled stagnation of business and commercial disaster. The Democratic cabinet demonstrated the fact, beyond successful contradiction, that they knew next to nothing about business principle or the proper handling of a circulating medium. There was one hundred million dollars in gold in the reserve fund when they took charge, every dollar worth 100 cents. The currency barometer started downward, and it seemed to droop and wither every time a Democrat breathed upon it. That Democratic cabinet was forced to borrow the sum of $265,000,000 in order to keep that reserve intact and run the government in any kind of decent shape; you are aware of the fact that they did not dare touch the reserve fund, as a Republican administration had made such a measure impossible—had taken care of your funds and of my funds.

What was the business result? Investors became scared and investments were withdrawn; the price of farmers' products went down, down, down; laboring men everywhere were thrown out of employment; soup houses became necessary for the feeding of the hungry people; men patronized these places who had never before dreamed of such a necessity or humiliation; the pangs of hunger are awful and the craving appetite must be satisfied; the people had a change, an awful change, and they awakened to the fact when it was too late. Do you want another such change. Do you want another lesson respecting the conditions which control under Democratic rule? (Cries of no, no, we do not, and we don't intend to have it.) Business and professional men on every hand met with reverses—went down in the common ruin. You know this to be the truth, plain and unvarnished, and it is an awfully sad and forbidding picture. You know the conditions which existed in 1896. The masses wanted another change, and they wanted it all over. (A voice, in stentorian tones: 'And they got it, good and hard, and they liked it to the queen's taste.') Bryan paramount silver. You know he's great on the paramount, is Billy Jennings Bryan. Silver, in Billy's estimation, was the only thing which would save the republic from ruin. Have you read Billy's predictions respecting Kansas, given in 1896? In the light of unexampled prosperity, Billy's predictions at that time are excruciatingly funny. He predicted that, in case McKinley and a Republican administration should be elected, the nation would go to the demdition bow-wows in the ensuing four years; disaster would ensue on every hand, men could not find employment at any price, and misery and starvation would rule everywhere. In the light of unexampled prosperity and blessings which have controlled this whole nation during the four years specified, Billy's prophecies are the trashiest kind of trash; and the poor fellow is engaged again in talking about on the same line, but under the shadow of misrepresentation and subterfuge, Billy is a calamity howler. Let Beer Drinkers and Guzzlers
Read This Article Very Carefully.

THE HERE AND THE HEREAFTER

Insurance Companies and Business
Men Will Settle the Liquor Problem.

BOOZERS ARE NOT WANTED

This has been one of the questions which has led to no little discussion, pro and con. In its relation to the army canteen, drinking army surgeons have rushed to defend beer and light wines as helpful to the service, while temperance army surgeons have been ready, though not so eager, to oppose these drinks, especially in view of President McKinley's decided preference for them. Yet even these bold public leaders have not ventured to claim that it was advisable for men to drink, simply asserting that they wished the government to provide these drinks to the soldiers, rather than outside parties. One physician, D. H. Mann, who has made a study of the subject, calls attention to the fact that the first result of beer drinking is to abnormally enlarge the stomach. He then continues:

"The next damaging effects are upon the kidneys and liver, so often followed by Bright's disease, or enlargement and softening of the kidneys or an equally alarming change in the liver, by enlargement, fatty deposit or dotted with little hardened points like nail heads, which is called the hob-nailed or drunkard's liver, and in addition to these a long line of other diseased viscera are developed from beer drinking.

"Physicians and surgeons all agree that a beer drinker is a hard subject for a favorable prognosis under medical or surgical treatment for any injury or malady. Tell any physician that his patient is an habitual beer drinker, and he will shrug his shoulders and draw a deep sigh, wishing the patient had not fallen into his hands for treatment. It is difficult to find any vital organ in a beer drinker doing its work as nature designed it should. That is the reason beer drinkers are so often snapped off suddenly.

"It is not to be supposed that there are no damaging results because we cannot always trace them. One writer says: 'The idea that because you stop before you stagger, the system takes no note of the damaging material you put into it, is a ruinous delusion.' Abnormal changes cannot long be endured by the human system, but damaging results are sure to follow, such as impaired nutrition, weakening of nervous system, debility of the circulatory organism deranging the heart's action and the circulation of the vital fluid. Thus the beer drinker does not stand an equal chance with his abstemious neighbor for recovery from any disease or injury."

If such are the results of beer drinking, and no expert will deny the facts as stated, it would appear a suicidal policy for the government to encourage such excesses on the part of American soldiers.

CROKER ANSWERS ROOSEVELT.

Said Republicans as Well as Democrats
Were Interested in Ice Trust.

New York, Oct. 1.—The World today said in part:
Mayor Van Wyck's answer to the charges of violating the law by investing in the securities of the American
Ice trust will be in the hands of Attorney General Davies at Albany today.

Attorney General Davies will not
take any action on Mayor Van Wyck's
answer, until Governor Roosevelt returns and sees fit to act.

Richard Croker devoted some time
to reading the telegraphic report of
the speech Governor Roosevelt made Saturday night at Kansas City in which the governor attacked the New York Ice trust and mentioned Mr.
Croker and other New York city Democrats by name as being interested in
it. After reading the speech Mr.
Croker said in part:

"I bought stock in the American Ice
company for the same reason that I
have bought other stocks, because I thought it a good investment. And
why does Roosevelt make me and other Democrats, who were interested in
the company, the target at whom his
expetives and denunciations are leveled? Why does not he attack the Republicans who were interested in the ice trust? The officers and directors of the ice trust and many of the stockholders are Republicans and personal friends of Roosevelt. In fact they are
the very men who were responsible
for the nomination and election of Roosevelt as governor and his nomination as vice president.

"Why doesn't he attack his friends
who created and maintained the ice
trust and who alone were responsible
for the advance in the price of ice?
Why does he harp on the ice trust
anyhow? As Mr. Bryan says, the ice trust is purely a local affair and is out a national issue at all. The Democrats are engaged in a bitter and relentless warfare against all trusts, but
it seems that Roosevelt can see no
harm in any save the ice trust."

FROM THE RAM'S HORN

Let Beer Drinkers and Guzzlers
Read This Article Very Carefully.

THE HERE AND THE HEREAFTER

Insurance Companies and Business
Men Will Settle the Liquor
Problem.

BOOZERS ARE NOT WANTED

This has been one of the questions which has led to no little discussion, pro and con. In its relation to the army canteen, drinking army surgeons have rushed to defend beer and light wines as helpful to the service, while temperance army surgeons have been ready, though not so eager, to oppose these drinks, especially in view of President McKinley's decided preference for them. Yet even these bold public leaders have not ventured to claim that it was advisable for men to drink, simply asserting that they wished the government to provide these drinks to the soldiers, rather than outside parties. One physician, D. H. Mann, who has made a study of the subject, calls attention to the fact that the first result of beer drinking is to abnormally enlarge the stomach. He then continues:

"The next damaging effects are upon the kidneys and liver, so often followed by Bright's disease, or enlargement and softening of the kidneys or an equally alarming change in the liver, by enlargement, fatty deposit or dotted with little hardened points like nail heads, which is called the hob-nailed or drunkard's liver, and in addition to these a long line of other diseased viscera are developed from beer drinking.

"Physicians and surgeons all agree that a beer drinker is a hard subject for a favorable prognosis under medical or surgical treatment for any injury or malady. Tell any physician that his patient is an habitual beer drinker, and he will shrug his shoulders and draw a deep sigh, wishing the patient had not fallen into his hands for treatment. It is difficult to find any vital organ in a beer drinker doing its work as nature designed it should. That is the reason beer drinkers are so often snapped off suddenly.

"It is not to be supposed that there are no damaging results because we cannot always trace them. One writer says: 'The idea that because you stop before you stagger, the system takes no note of the damaging material you put into it, is a ruinous delusion.' Abnormal changes cannot long be endured by the human system, but damaging results are sure to follow, such as impaired nutrition, weakening of nervous system, debility of the cascular organism deranging the heart's action and the circulation of the vital fluid. Thus the beer drinker does not stand an equal chance with his abstemious neighbor for recovery from any disease or injury."

If such are the results of beer drinking, and no expert will deny the facts as stated, it would appear a suicidal policy for the government to encourage such excesses on the part of American soldiers.

CROKER ANSWERS ROOSEVELT.

Said Republicans as Well as Democrats
Were Interested In Ice Trust.

New York, Oct. 1.—The World to-
day said in part:

charges of violating the law by invest-
ing in the securities of the American
ice trust will be in the hands of Attorney General Davies at Albany today.

Attorney General Davies will not
take any action on Mayor Van Wyck's
answer, until Governor Roosevelt returns and sees fit to act.

Richard Croker devoted some time
to reading the telegraphic report of
the speech Governor Roosevelt made
Saturday night at Kansas City in
which the governor attacked the New York ice trust and mentioned Mr.
Croker and other New York city Democrats by name as being interested in
it. After reading the speech Mr.
Croker said in part:

"I bought stock in the American Ice
company for the same reason that I
have bought other stocks, because I thought it a good investment. And
Democrats, who were interested in
the company, the target at whom his
expetives and denunciations are leveled? Why does not he attack the Republicans who were interested in the
ice trust? The officers and directors of
the ice trust and many of the stock-
holders are Republicans and personal
friends of Roosevelt. In fact they are
the very men who were responsible
for the nomination and election of Roosevelt as governor and his nomination as vice president.

who created and maintained the ice
trust and who alone were responsible
for the advance in the price of ice?
Why does he harp on the ice trust
anyhow? As Mr. Bryan says, the ice
trust is purely a local affair and is not a national issue at all. The Democrats are engaged in a bitter and relentless warfare against all trusts, but
it seems that Roosevelt can see no

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than
I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon.
William Jennings Bryan in a speech
at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

REFUSED.

The miners of the anthracite region have refused the offer of a 10 per cent advance in wages. Mitchell evidently believes that there are other vital features to be taken into consideration. It is earnestly hoped that mutual efforts to agree and conciliate
will yet result in a peaceable and amicable settlement, at an early date.

BUSINESS MEN.

All over the nation the business men and moneyed men are hesitating about investments, fearful of the possibility of Bryan's election, a result which will mean the shutting down
of industries, men thrown out of employment, general depression in commercial circles and the lowering of wages. Every lover of a fair day's wage for a fair day's work should be on the alert and cast his vote for Mc-Kinley and Roosevelt.

TOOK THE PLEDGE.

Twenty-one hundred men in the anthracite coal regions have taken the oath of total abstinence from the use of intoxicants during the time the present strike continues. This in but two congregations of the Catholic church,
under the persuasion of the priests
in charge. We commend, very warmly, priests and people. What a lesson in favor of total abstinence? What a sure evidence of the curse consequent upon the use of intoxicants.

ARBITRATION.

Strikes are a curse to every one interested, employers and workmen.
They are far-reaching in their pernicious influence. What shall be done to obviate them? Will compulsory national arbitration settle the vexed question? Is not this the proper method? Can there be devised, in human brain, any better method or mode of settlement? The difficulty must be obviated, as not only property, but human life is involved.

SENATOR PRITCHARD.

Read his Steubenville speech in today's issue. Minister Barrett's speech, or part of it, will appear in tomorrow's issue of the News Review. Senator Pritchard hits the Democracy good and hard and effectively. He tells of the Democracy of the south holding full federal enumeration, and at the same time deliberately robbing the negro of his vote. Minister Barrett knows more about Aguinaldo and the Philippines than any other living man. Read Pritchard today—Barrett tomorrow.

READ THEM.

Read the opinions of Rev. Gladden and Pastor Crawford respecting the liquor traffic in general, and the late disgraceful action of the brewery element of East Liverpool in particular. These reverend gentlemen speak in no uncertain tones. We honor them for their staunch adherence to right
and truth, and for their condemnation of the greatest evil which curses this great republic; an evil untold, and far worse than that of human slavery. God speed the day when this blot upon our national honor shall be wiped out. Rev. Gorrell, of the Christian church, will preach on the same subject next Sabbath.

COMMENDABLE.

The order issued by Chief of Police Thompson respecting loitering, loafing and profanity in public places and on our thoroughfares and highways is a very commendable one. And now for its enforcement. And, further, we long to commend Mayor Davidson and Chief Thompson for a full enforcement of the laws against Sunday liquor selling, selling after hours, selling to minors and selling liquor in houses of ill fame. We know that these features are very hard features to control; but we know also that they can be controlled, and that the law
demands that they shall be controlled.
And we sincerely hope that our pres-

Rev. C. G. Jordan, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will arrive this week from Ironton, Ohio, and will occupy the pulpit of the First church next Sunday.

When Rev. Jordan arrives in the city a reception will be held at the earliest possible moment, when he will meet the officers of the church and a thorough discussion of the work will be had.

On Tuesday evening, October 9, a reception will be held in the church, when the members of the congregation will meet their new pastor and extend a hearty welcome to him.

As soon as Rev. Jordan desires a called meeting of Steubenville presbytery will be held in this city and arrangements made for his installation.

Rev. Jordan took his preparatory work at Grove City college, from there he went to Westminster college, where he graduated. His seminary work was taken at Princeton.

He entered the ministry in 1894, and his first charge was at a small town near New Castle, Pa. From there he went to Parnassus and later received a call to Ironton, which he accepted.

He was a classmate of Rev. J. R. Greene, pastor of the Second U. P. church, in his preparatory work at Grove City college.

Although he is still a young man in the ministry, his ability is recognized and he comes to this city with a splendid reputation as a pastor and minister.

MINERS MAY DECLINE.

Likely to Continue Strike, at Leaders' Behest.

OFFER OF A 10 PER CENT INCREASE.

It Was Posted by the Reading Company, and Other Companies, It Was Said. Will Follow—One Regiment of Troop Ordered Home.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—An offer of an increase of 10 per cent in miners' wages was inaugurated by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company, and this move, it is stated, will be followed today by similar notices at every colliery in the anthracite region.

It is expected by the operators that this increase in wages will be satisfactory to the men and they believe many of the strikers will take advantage of the offer and return to work. Reports received from several points in the Schuylkill region, where the Reading collieries are located, rather indicate that the mine workers will follow the instruction of their organization officials and remain away from the mines.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1.—A prominent coal operator who is in touch with the negotiations now going on looking to a settlement of the miners' strike, said that on Saturday night it looked favorable for a settlement, but it did not look so favorable last night. The activity of the United Mine Workers in the Schuylkill region and kind of put a damper on things.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 1.—General Gobin ordered the Twelfth regiment home.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 1.—President Mitchell did not know of the posting by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company of a notice granting an increase of 10 per cent to all the employees of its 39 collieries in the Schuylkill valley, until informed of it by a reporter. He did not express the least surprise. He refused to discuss the advance, but it is understood that he knew the 10 per cent increase would be made, and was anxious to see in what manner the information would be conveyed to the men.

The action of the Reading company in directly notifying its men through the posters indicates that the operators will not recede from their position of refusal to recognize the union.

What President Mitchell's first move will be in view of this new phase of the situation is not known. "The operators are evidently not taking me into consideration," he said, "but they will wish they had." Discussing the question of a compromise the national president said it would depend upon circumstances whether a compromise would be considered. When asked if the amount of the increase would be one of the circumstances, he said it would be a consideration.

There is considerable talk that the posting of the notices will cause a break in the strikers' ranks. It is predicted that if this does happen it would mean the end of the strike in a very short time. The labor leaders again reiterated that there will be no break and that the strikers are under perfect control. President Mitchell said he did not order the mine workers' notice to be placed along with that of the Reading company, but he thought it was done as a result of his warning to the strikers last week, to the effect that they should not go back to work until ordered to do so by the union officials. The strikers, he said, probably chose the poster scheme, as one of the methods of keeping the men in line.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—The following notice, bearing date of October 1, was posted in the vicinity of all the collieries of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company in the anthracite region.

Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company, Oct. 1, 1900:
This company will pay an advance of 10 per cent on the wages of all men and boys employed at its collieries. This advance takes effect today.

(Signed) R. C. Luther, Gen. Supt.

Beneath this notice another was posted which read as follows:

"Fellow Mine Workers—United Mine Workers of America:

"Do not pay any attention to this notice posted by Mr. Luther, of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company, but wait until you hear from President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, or until you have decided by your own locals what is right for you to do.

(Signed) C. B. Potter."

Mr. Potter is an officer in the district branch of the United Mine Workers of America. The regular Reading company advances for the last half of September and the first half of October had previously been fixed at 2 per cent above the $2.50 basis. The scale for the proceeding 30 days was at the $2.50 basis. The advance of 10 per cent offered in the posted notice by the Reading company is separate and distinct from the natural scale increase and hence the total increase to the miners would be 16 per cent.

Rome, Oct. 1.—During the beautification of Antonez Frassl, one of the first chiefs of the Order of Oratorians, at St. Peter's cathedral, Sunday afternoon the pope venerated the effigy of the new saint in the presence of thousands.

His holiness displayed remarkable vigor. Ordinarily he is aided in his movements; but, on this occasion, he raised himself from the place of kneeling, made a gesture refusing assistance, walked with a firm step to the altar and ultimately returned to his seat without assistance.

ENVOY OF FILIPINOS.

Lopez Here In the Interest of His People.

NOT TO INTERFERE IN POLITICS.

Wants to Tell What the Filipinos Desire, in the Way of Government—Hopes to Be Able to Show Them Capable of Independence.

New York, Oct. 1.—Sexton Lopez, formerly secretary and confident of General Aguinaldo arrived here on the Cunarder Campana. Lopez is said to have come here at the invitation of Fiske Warren and he expects to explain to the people the Filipino's side of their fight with this country.

Lopez is a small man with a yellow complexion and straight black hair. His secretary, who says that he has known Lopez for eight years, is a colonial from Brisbane, Queensland, and describes himself as a Britisher from head to foot. At the dock there was only one man to meet him, a small sandy haired man who was addressed as Mr. George, but to reporters refused to give his name. He saluted the Filipino and together they began a hunt of the dock for Fiske Warren, who finally made his appearance and the party went to the Imperial hotel.

While coming up from quarantine, Lopez gave out the following signed statement:

"My object in visiting the United States is not to interfere in American politics, but solely to tell the American people who the Filipinos desire in reference to the future government of our country. It has been said that my coming to America is in the interest of certain persons and parties. We, as Filipinos, know no parties in the United States. We have only one desire, viz.: To seek justice for our country.

"Those who desire to give us justice will no doubt be glad to know the wants and conditions of the Philippines. All we want is peace with honor to both parties and I hope to be able to show that the conditions of our country are such as to fit us for the maintenance of that independence.

At the hotel he added to the statement the following:
"The only additional matter to which I need refer is the publication of my book on the Philippines. It is chiefly a reply to Commissioner Schurman's report and will contain views of the Philippines, on past and present events, with notes on history and ethnography of the people."

Boston, Oct. 1.—When Senor Lopez reached this city last night he was immediately visited by newspaper men, but he went to Young's hotel and retired for the night, declining to grant an interview.

FILIPINOS LOST 90 KILLED.

Various Outbreaks Occurred, Though Were Quieter.

Manila, Oct. 1.—The Filipinos in the vicinity of Manila have been more quiet of late, although last Wednesday night there were brisk attacks at Las Pinas and Paranaque, south of Manila, as well as outpost firing at Imus, Bacoor and Muntin Lupa. The American officers are satisfied that the alleged Amigos living in and around the towns in question participated in these attacks.

Official reports have been received of insurgent activity in Zambales province and in Batangas province. Two skirmishes occurred during the week on the Bicol river, in the province of South Camarines. It is estimated that the insurgents lost 90 killed in the various districts.

Two civilians, John McMahon and Ralph McCord, of San Francisco, who started on a business trip for Vilgan and Bangued, in Northern Luzon, have not been heard from for three weeks. It is feared that they have been killed or captured by the insurgents.

Capt. Samuel E. Smiley, of the Fifteenth United States infantry, formerly attached to the staff of General Bates in the Philippines, who proceeded to China to join his regiment, but broke down there, owing to the climate and hard work, is returning to the United States on the supply ship Celtic.

"I hope and expect that President Kruger will come to this country and that he will make a great impression on the American people and that they will see that the grand old leader of South Africa, so scoffed at and maligned by the English press is not only one of the grandest figures of our time, but is also one of the most advanced."

His Body Probably Placed on Electric Railway Tracks.

Akron, O., Oct. 1.—The mangled body of Patrick Mullen was found on the track of the electric railway at Cuyahoga Falls. At first it was thought he had been killed by a car. It was believed the body was placed on the track by his murderers. He had considerable money when last seen alive.

HANNA REITERATES HIS ASSERTION.

Says Bryan Promised to Let Croker Name a Cabinet Member.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 1.—Senator Hanna arrived home from New York and left for Chicago. It is his purpose to return to New York about the middle of October, but he expects to be in Chicago the closing week of the campaign. In an interview Senator Hanna said he was pleased with the outlook in New York, where things were looking better than a month ago.

Referring to his recent interview in this city, in which he was quoted as saying Mr. Bryan had promised to let Richard Croker name one of the members of his cabinet if elected, Senator Hanna said: "I have never denied that interview. In fact, what I said about Croker and a cabinet position, has been substantiated during the past week. I knew what I was talking about when I said that Bryan had promised Croker the naming of one of the cabinet officers. I know that Bryan has promised to let Croker distribute the federal patronage in New York, and if Bryan is elected, Croker can put Former Senator Edward Murphy in Bryan's cabinet."

MINERS MAY DECLINE.

OFFER OF A 10 PER CENT INCREASE.

It Was Posted by the Reading Company, and Other Companies, It Was Said. Will Follow—One Regiment of Troop Ordered Home.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—An offer of an increase of 10 per cent in miners' wages was inaugurated by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company, and this move, it is stated, will be followed today by similar notices at every colliery in the anthracite region.

It is expected by the operators that this increase in wages will be satisfactory to the men and they believe many of the strikers will take advantage of the offer and return to work. Reports received from several points in the Schuylkill region, where the Reading collieries are located, rather indicate that the mine workers will follow the instruction of their organization officials and remain away from the mines.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1.—A prominent coal operator who is in touch with the negotiations now going on looking to a settlement of the miners' strike, said that on Saturday night it looked favorable for a settlement, but it did not look so favorable last night. The activity of the United Mine Workers in the Schuylkill region and kind of put a damper on things.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 1.—General Gobin ordered the Twelfth regiment home.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 1.—President Mitchell did not know of the posting by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company of a notice granting an increase of 10 per cent to all the employees of its 39 collieries in the Schuylkill valley, until informed of it by a reporter. He did not express the least surprise. He refused to discuss the advance, but it is understood that he knew the 10 per cent increase would be made, and was anxious to see in what manner the information would be conveyed to the men.

The action of the Reading company in directly notifying its men through the posters indicates that the operators will not recede from their position of refusal to recognize the union.

What President Mitchell's first move will be in view of this new phase of the situation is not known. "The operators are evidently not taking me into consideration," he said, "but they will wish they had." Discussing the question of a compromise the national president said it would depend upon circumstances whether a compromise would be considered. When asked if the amount of the increase would be one of the circumstances, he said it would be a consideration.

There is considerable talk that the posting of the notices will cause a break in the strikers' ranks. It is predicted that if this does happen it would mean the end of the strike in a very short time. The labor leaders again reiterated that there will be no break and that the strikers are under perfect control. President Mitchell said he did not order the mine workers' notice to be placed along with that of the Reading company, but he thought it was done as a result of his warning to the strikers last week, to the effect that they should not go back to work until ordered to do so by the union officials. The strikers, he said, probably chose the poster scheme, as one of the methods of keeping the men in line.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—The following notice, bearing date of October 1, was posted in the vicinity of all the collieries of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company in the anthracite region.

Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company, Oct. 1, 1900:

This company will pay an advance of 10 per cent on the wages of all men and boys employed at its collieries. This advance takes effect today.

(Signed) R. C. Luther, Gen. Supt.

"Fellow Mine Workers—United Mine Workers of America:

"Do not pay any attention to this notice posted by Mr. Luther, of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company, but wait until you hear from President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, or until you have decided by your own locals what is right for you to do.

(Signed) C. B. Potter."

Mr. Potter is an officer in the district branch of the United Mine Workers of America. The regular Reading company advances for the last half of September and the first half of October had previously been fixed at a per cent above the $2.50 basis. The scale for the preceding 30 days was at the $2.50 basis. The advance of 10 per cent offered in the posted notice by the Reading company is separate and distinct from the natural scale increase and hence the total increase to the miners would be 16 per cent.

ENVOY OF FILIPINOS.

Lopez Here In the Interest of His People.

Wants to Tell What the Filipinos Desire, in the Way of Government—Hopes to Be Able to Show Them Capable of Independence.

New York, Oct. 1.—Sexton Lopez, formerly secretary and confident of General Aguinaldo arrived here on the Cunarder Campania. Lopez is said to have come here at the invitation of Fiske Warren and he expects to explain to the people the Filipino's side of their fight with this country.

Lopez is a small man with a yellow complexion and straight black hair. His secretary, who says that he has known Lopez for eight years, is a colonial from Brisbane, Queensland, and describes himself as a Britisher from head to foot. At the dock there was only one man to meet him, a small sandy haired man who was addressed as Mr. George, but to reporters refused to give his name. He saluted the Filipino and together they began a hunt of the dock for Fiske Warren, who finally made his appearance and the party went to the Imperial hotel.

While coming up from quarantine, Lopez gave out the following signed statement:

"My object in visiting the United States is not to interfere in American politics, but solely to tell the American people who the Filipinos desire in reference to the future government of our country. It has been said that my coming to America is in the interest of certain persons and parties. We, as Filipinos, know no parties in the United States. We have only one desire, viz.: To seek justice for our country.

"Those who desire to give us justice will not doubt be glad to know the wants and conditions of the Philippines. All we want is peace with honor to both parties and I hope to be able to show that the conditions of our country are such as to fit us for the maintenance of that independence.

At the hotel he added to the statement the following:

"The only additional matter to which I need refer is the publication of my book on the Philippines. It is chiefly a reply to Commissioner Schurman's report and will contain views of the Philippines, on past and present events, with notes on history and ethnography of the people."

Boston, Oct. 1.—When Senor Lopez reached this city last night he was immediately visited by newspaper men, but he went to Young's hotel and retired for the night, declining to grant an interview.

FILIPINOS LOST 90 KILLED.

Various Outbreaks Occurred, Though Were Quieter.

Manila, Oct. 1.—The Filipinos in the vicinity of Manila have been more quiet of late, although last Wednesday night there were brisk attacks at Las Pinas and Paranaque, south of Manila, as well as outpost firing at Imus, Bacoor and Muntin Lupa. The American officers are satisfied that the alleged Amigos living in and around the towns in question participated in these attacks.

Official reports have been received of insurgent activity in Zambales province and in Batangas province. Two skirmishes occurred during the week on the Bicol river, in the province of South Camarines. It is estimated that the insurgents lost 90 killed in the various districts.

It was believed the body was placed on the track by his murderers. He had considerable money when last seen alive.

HANNA REITERATES HIS ASSERTION.

Says Bryan Promised to Let Coker Name a Cabinet Member.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 1.—Senator Hanna arrived home from New York and left for Chicago. It is his purpose to return to New York about the middle of October, but he expects to be in Chicago the closing week of the campaign. Referring to his recent interview in this city, in which he was quoted as saying Mr. Bryan had promised to let Richard Coker name one of the members of his cabinet if elected, Senator Hanna said: "I have never denied that interview. In fact, what I said about Coker and a cabinet position, has been substantiated during the past week. I knew what I was talking about when I said that Bryan had promised Coker the naming of one of the cabinet officers. I know that Bryan has promised to let Coker distribute the federal patronage in New York, and if Bryan is elected, Coker can put Former Senator Edward Murphy in Bryan's cabinet."

THE OLD SOLDIERS.

Captain John T. Raper Talks
of Their Views.

THEY WILL SUPPORT MCKINLEY.

No Reason to Expect Any Favors From
Bryan — The President Has Always
Proved a True Comrade and a Steadfast Friend to Them.

One of the reasons why the old soldiers will generally support Mr. McKinley is that they are now the principal creditors of the nation, and they want no repudiation of the indebtedness, direct or indirect; no experiment with the dollar in which they are to be paid which is likely to reduce its value. In this demand they are not selfish. They stand for the highest type of national honor, and almost to a man were for paying the bondholders in the best dollar there was to be found on earth. The pensions of many are too small now, and to cut them in two by making the silver dollar the standard, would bring many dependent pensioners to absolute want and distress.

Another reason why the old soldiers will vote for McKinley is that their patriotism is of that robust, confident nature that fears nothing and hopes all things for the nation, and that nation's influence on the freedom and happiness of the whole world. They have seen the happy effect of their victory in the sixties in their own country extend to other nations, in increased freedom and privilege to all the common people, and the weakening of the power and influence of tyrants to the uttermost bounds of the earth.

To them the American flag is the emblem of hope and freedom to the oppressed to every clime, and when it was unfurled in Hawaii, Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines, it meant that the freedom of the great west had invaded—to stay—the dark domain of the far east, the home of ignorance, superstition and tyranny. They are not appalled by the temporary disorder in the Philippines; they look beyond that to the centuries of order, liberty, progress and prosperity which are sure to follow the flag. They are not worried nor frightened by the cry of imperialism, nor the deceitful talk about "the consent of the governed." They heard all that threshed over for four long and weary years a third of a century ago, when that great-hearted prince of the common people, the emancipator Lincoln, was denounced as a hateful tyrant and wicked usurper who was seeking to subvert the liberties of the people, and make himself an emperor.

A third reason why they will support McKinley is that he is their comrade, and bears their interests and welfare in mind as only a comrade can. He may not have done all that each one might wish, and in the way that each thought best, or all that he might have done if he had not the weight of a war on his mind, involving provision for its successful prosecution, and great and intricate questions of responsibility and statesmanship. But he has not been neglectful of his comrades.

Everything that the Grand Army has asked for officially has been granted so far as there has been time and opportunity. The law of 1890 was amended in the exact words proposed by the Philadelphia national encampment, and every national committee of that order having anything to do with legislation, or with the administration of laws for the benefit of veterans, reported to the national encampment at Chicago the active interest of the president in promoting the purpose of their appointment.

The civil service regulations were amended by President McKinley as requested by the committee, so that soldiers who were removed from office for political reasons were reinstated, and the removal of a veteran from public employment without cause was forbidden; and when the committee returned at a later date to report that this regulation was not being fairly administered, he promptly issued an order that no veteran should be removed without a hearing, and until the president had himself examined and approved the papers. Does anyone suppose that Mr. Bryan would thus interpose to protect the veterans of a war which he more than half disapproves, and for whom he has never yet found time to say a kind word?

No man ever heard from McKinley, or the typical young American who is his running mate, one unkind or disrespectful word of the veteran, or of the cause which gives him character and standing. No man ever heard of one kind or grateful word for either from Mr. Bryan, or his running mate, the organizer of the Bloomington, Ill., Knights of the Golden Circle. Mr. Bryan is distinctly unfriendly. He went out of his way as editor of the Omaha World-Herald, to charge that pensions are a fraudulent debt, "because it was never earned by any act of patriotism or heroic service." He charged that the old soldiers were holding up and robbing the government, and noted with a sneer of evident regret "their remarkable longevity." Most of them will take pleasure in living long enough to cast another vote against putting such a man in the presidential chair.

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

GEORGE W. WILSON.

Captain George W. Wilson of London was born in Brighton, Clark county, Ohio, Feb. 22, 1840. He was educated in the public schools and at Antioch college, Ohio. He was in the military service during the Civil War for nearly four years. He was a private, a noncommissioned officer, a second and a first lieutenant in the Ninety-fourth Ohio volunteer infantry. He was subsequently commissioned by the president as first lieutenant of the First regiment of United States veteran volunteer engineers, and was subsequently promoted to captain in the same regiment.

He was admitted to the bar in 1866, and began the practice at London, Ohio, where he is still engaged in it. He was twice elected prosecuting attorney of Madison county. He was elected to the lower house of the state legislature in 1871, and elected to the state senate in 1877, serving one term in each of those bodies.

In 1892 he was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Republican, from the Seventh district, Madison, Clark, Fayette, Miami and Pickaway counties, and was re-elected from the same district in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth. His record in congress was highly creditable.

LUTHER M. STRONG.

Colonel Luther M. Strong of Kenton was born near Tiffin, Seneca county, Ohio, June 23, 1838. He attended the common schools and Schuyler's academy, at Republic, Ohio, and subsequently taught school for a number of years. In 1861 he enlisted as a private soldier in the Forty-ninth Ohio volunteer infantry, and was promoted to captain, major, lieutenant colonel and brevetted colonel. His regiment was so reduced in numbers that he failed to receive his commission as colonel, and he resigned March 13, 1865, because of wounds. He commanded his regiment from the fall of Atlanta until after the battle of Nashville. He was severely wounded in the right shoulder at Pickett's Mills, and at Nashville was badly wounded in the left arm.

He studied law after retiring from the military service, and was admitted to the bar in 1867, and began the practice of law at Kenton, Ohio, where he now has an extensive practice. He was a member of the board of education of Kenton for many years, and was elected to the state senate in 1879 and re-elected in 1881.

He was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Republican, in 1892, from the Eighth district, Hardin, Logan, Union, Champaign, Hancock and Delaware counties, and was re-elected from the same district in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth. He made an excellent record in congress.

WILLIAM J. WHITE.

William J. White of Cleveland was born in Canada, Oct. 7, 1850, and migrated to the United States in 1857. He was educated in the common schools, and when a young man entered and still continues in business as a wholesale dealer and manufacturer, with large interests also in shipping, mining, farming and stock raising.

He was elected mayor of West Cleveland, as a Republican, in 1889. In 1892 he was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Republican, from the Twentieth district, a part of Cuyahoga and Lake and Medina counties.

WINFIELD S. KERR.

Winfield S. Kerr of Mansfield, Richland county, graduated from the law department of the Michigan university, was admitted to the bar, and began the practice of his profession in Mansfield, where he is still engaged in it. For many years he has been one of the prominent figures in the politics of his native county and the state. During his legislative career he proved himself to be both a strong and incisive debater, and generally carried conviction to his hearers.

He was elected to the senate of the Sixty-eighth general assembly in 1887, and to the Sixty-ninth in 1889, from the joint Twenty-seventh-Twenty-ninth senatorial district. He declined a third election to the state senate in 1891.

In 1894 he was elected to the Fifty-fourth congress from the Fourteenth district, as a Republican, the district consisting of Richland, Ashland, Huron, Knox and Lorain counties, and was re-elected to the Fifty-fifth in 1896, and the Fifty-sixth in 1898. He presided over the Republican state convention of 1899, held at Columbus, June 1 and 2. Mr. Kerr's course in congress has been generally satisfactory to his constituents.

GEORGE P. IKIRT.

Dr. George P. Ikirt of East Liverpool was born near West Beaver, Columbiana county, in 1852. He was educated in the common schools and followed the profession of teaching for some years. He began the study of law, but abandoned it because of failing health.

Later he took up the study of medicine, and took a preparatory course in the Columbus Medical college, and in 1877, graduated from the College of Medicine and Surgery in Cincinnati. After five years' practice in East Liverpool he attended the Bellevue Hospital Medical college in New York city, and graduated from that institution in 1883.

He returned to East Liverpool and resumed the practice of his profession. He established the East Liverpool Crisis, a Democratic newspaper, in 1884, and conducted it many years. He was defeated for congress by William McKinley, Jr., in 1888, and in 1892 was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Democrat, from the Eighteenth district, Columbiana, Mahoning and Stark counties, and served one term.

TO BE CONTINUED

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The Monroe doctrine of "America for Americans," not having run afoul of any European complications of consequence, it is the Democratic pretense that Bryan's extension of it into Asia and into the very hotbed of all the contentions of the nations for new territory, will be mild and peaceful upon our part. Who can suppose such

to be the case for a single minute? Our full possession and authority in the Philippines might be respected, but our mere guardianship would not last long before the hunger of some voracious Bear, or Lion, or Imperial Eagle.

Philosophy is an extremely agreeable companion to people in easy circumstances.—Brooklyn Life.

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

GEORGE W. WILSON.

Captain George W. Wilson of London was born in Brighton, Clark county, Ohio, Feb. 22, 1840. He was educated in the public schools and at Antioch college, Ohio. He was in the military service during the Civil War for nearly four years. He was a private, a noncommissioned officer, a second and a first lieutenant in the Ninety-fourth Ohio volunteer infantry. He was subsequently commissioned by the president as first lieutenant of the First regiment of United States veteran volunteer engineers, and was subsequently promoted to captain in the same regiment.

He was admitted to the bar in 1866, and began the practice at London, Ohio, where he is still engaged in it. He was twice elected prosecuting attorney of Madison county. He was elected to the lower house of the state legislature in 1871, and elected to the state senate in 1877, serving one term in each of those bodies.

In 1892 he was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Republican, from the Seventh district, Madison, Clark, Fayette, Miami and Pickaway counties, and was re-elected from the same district in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth. His record in congress was highly creditable.

LUTHER M. STRONG.

Colonel Luther M. Strong of Kenton was born near Tiffin, Seneca county, Ohio, June 23, 1838. He attended the common schools and Schuyler's academy, at Republic, Ohio, and subsequently taught school for a number of years. In 1861 he enlisted as a private soldier in the Forty-ninth Ohio volunteer infantry, and was promoted to captain, major, lieutenant colonel and brevetted colonel. His regiment was so reduced in numbers that he failed to receive his commission as colonel, and he resigned March 18, 1865, because of wounds. He commanded his regiment from the fall of Atlanta until after the battle of Nashville. He was severely wounded in the right shoulder at Pickett's Mills, and at Nashville was badly wounded in the left arm.

He studied law after retiring from the military service, and was admitted to the bar in 1867, and began the practice of law at Kenton, Ohio, where he now has an extensive practice. He was a member of the board of education of Kenton for many years, and was elected to the state senate in 1879 and re-elected in 1881.

He was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Republican, in 1892, from the Eighth district, Hardin, Logan, Union, Champaign, Hancock and Delaware counties, and was re-elected from the same district in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth. He made an excellent record in congress.

WILLIAM J. WHITE.

William J. White of Cleveland was born in Canada, Oct. 7, 1850, and migrated to the United States in 1857. He was educated in the common schools, and when a young man entered and still continues in business as a wholesale dealer and manufacturer, with large interests also in shipping, mining, farming and stock raising.

He was elected mayor of West Cleveland, as a Republican, in 1889. In 1892 he was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Republican, from the Twentieth district, a part of Cuyahoga and Lake and Medina counties.

WINFIELD S. KERR.

Winfield S. Kerr of Mansfield, Richland county, graduated from the law department of the Michigan university, was admitted to the bar, and began the practice of his profession in Mansfield, where he is still engaged in it.

For many years he has been one of the prominent figures in the politics of his native county and the state. During his legislative career he proved himself to be both a strong and incisive debater, and generally carried conviction to his hearers.

He was elected to the senate of the Sixty-eighth general assembly in 1887, and to the Sixty-ninth in 1889, from the joint Twenty-seventh-Twenty-ninth senatorial district. He declined a third election to the state senate in 1891.

In 1894 he was elected to the Fifty-fourth congress from the Fourteenth district, as a Republican, the district consisting of Richland, Ashland, Huron, Knox and Lorain counties, and was re-elected to the Fifty-fifth in 1896, and the Fifty-sixth in 1898. He presided over the Republican state convention of 1899, held at Columbus, June 1 and 2. Mr. Kerr's course in congress has been generally satisfactory to his constituents.

GEORGE P. IKIRT.

Dr. George P. Ikirt of East Liverpool was born near West Beaver, Columbiana county, in 1852. He was educated in the common schools and followed the profession of teaching for some years. He began the study of law, but abandoned it because of failing health.

Later he took up the study of medicine, and took a preparatory course in the Columbus Medical college, and in 1877, graduated from the College of Medicine and Surgery in Cincinnati. After five years' practice in East Liverpool he attended the Bellevue Hospital Medical college in New York city, and graduated from that institution in 1883.

He returned to East Liverpool and resumed the practice of his profession. He established the East Liverpool Crisis, a Democratic newspaper, in 1884, and conducted it many years. He was defeated for congress by William McKinley, Jr., in 1888, and in 1892 was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Democrat, from the Eighteenth district, Columbiana, Mahoning and Stark counties, and served one term.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The Monroe doctrine of "America for Americans," not having run afoul of any European complications of consequence, it is the Democratic pretense that Bryan's extension of it into Asia and into the very hotbed of all the contentions of the nations for new territory, will be mild and peaceful upon our part. Who can suppose such

to be the case for a single minute? Our full possession and authority in the Philippines might be respected, but our mere guardianship would not last long before the hunger of some voracious Bear, or Lion, or Imperial Eagle.

THE OLD SOLDIERS.

Captain John T. Raper Talks
of Their Views.

Bryan — The President Has Always
Proved a True Comrade and a Stead-
fast Friend to Them.

One of the reasons why the old soldiers will generally support Mr. McKinley is that they are now the principal creditors of the nation, and they want no repudiation of the indebtedness, direct or indirect; no experiment with the dollar in which they are to be paid which is likely to reduce its value. In this demand they are not selfish. They stand for the highest type of national honor, and almost to a man were for paying the bondholders in the best dollar there was to be found on earth. The pensions of many are too small now, and to cut them in two by making the silver dollar the standard, would bring many dependent pensioners to absolute want and distress.

Another reason why the old soldiers will vote for McKinley is that their patriotism is of that robust, confident nature that fears nothing and hopes all things for the nation, and that nation's influence on the freedom and happiness of the whole world. They have seen the happy effect of their victory in the sixties in their own country extend to other nations, in increased freedom and privilege to all the common people, and the weakening of the power and influence of tyrants to the uttermost bounds of the earth.

To them the American flag is the emblem of hope and freedom to the oppressed to every clime, and when it was unfurled in Hawaii, Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines, it meant that the freedom of the great west had invaded—to stay—the dark domain of the far east, the home of ignorance, superstition and tyranny. They are not appalled by the temporary disorder in the Philippines; they look beyond that to the centuries of order, liberty, progress and prosperity which are sure to follow the flag. They are not worried nor frightened by the cry of imperialism, nor the deceitful talk about "the consent of the governed." They heard all that threshed over for four long and weary years a third of a century ago, when that great-hearted prince of the common people, the emancipator Lincoln, was denounced as a hateful tyrant and wicked usurper who was seeking to subvert the liberties of the people, and make himself an emperor.

A third reason why they will support McKinley is that he is their comrade, and bears their interests and welfare in mind as only a comrade can. He may not have done all that each one might wish, and in the way that each thought best, or all that he might have done if he had not the weight of a war on his mind, involving provision for its successful prosecution, and great and intricate questions of responsibility and statesmanship. But he has not been neglectful of his comrades.

Everything that the Grand Army has asked for officially has been granted so far as there has been time and opportunity. The law of 1890 was amended in the exact words proposed by the Philadelphia national encampment, and every national committee of that order having anything to do with legislation, or with the administration of laws for the benefit of veterans, reported to the national encampment at Chicago the active interest of the president in promoting the purpose of their appointment.

The civil service regulations were amended by President McKinley as requested by the committee, so that soldiers who were removed from office for political reasons were reinstated, and the removal of a veteran from public employment without cause was forbidden; and when the committee returned at a later date to report that this regulation was not being fairly administered, he promptly issued an order that no veteran should be removed without a hearing, and until the president had himself examined and approved the papers. Does anyone suppose that Mr. Bryan would thus interpose to protect the veterans of a war which he more than half disapproves, and for whom he has never yet found time to say a kind word?

No man ever heard from McKinley, or the typical young American who is his running mate, one unkind or disrespectful word of the veteran, or of the cause which gives him character and standing. No man ever heard of one kind or grateful word for either from Mr. Bryan, or his running mate, the organizer of the Bloomington, Ill., Knights of the Golden Circle. Mr. Bryan is distinctly unfriendly. He went out of his way as editor of the Omaha World-Herald, to charge that pensions are a fraudulent debt, "because it was never earned by any act of patriotism or heroic service." He charged that the old soldiers were holding up and robbing the government, and noted with a sneer of evident regret "their remarkable longevity." Most of them will take pleasure in living long enough to cast another vote against putting such a man in the presidential chair.

PRESIDENT ATTENDED CHURCH.

Took a Drive With Mrs. McKinley—Spent a Quiet Sunday.

Canton, O., Oct. 1.—President and Mrs. McKinley Sunday morning drove about the city for a time with their guests, relatives of the president, and later the president and his sisters attended church. Another drive was taken in the afternoon. The remainder of the day was spent in a quiet family visit, interrupted several times by people who wanted to shake hands whom the president met on the front porch.

Rescued 29 Shipwrecked Seamen.

New York, Oct. 1.—The British tramp steamer Glengoil, which arrived from Alexandria, Egypt, and other ports in the Mediterranean brought into port 29 shipwrecked seamen, taken from the British ship Nonpareil on September 22. Their vessel foundered shortly after they abandoned her. One of the crew of the Glengoil was crushed and swept away while helping make the rescue.

Fat the Foe of Consumption.

Consumption is most prevalent among those who are stinted or who stint themselves in the use of fat foods. Everybody has learned and employed the knowledge, usually when it is too late, that cod liver oil is good for consumption. Few seem to have learned that food of the same character suitable for the table is preventive of consumption. In the whole course of my professional observation, covering a period of nearly 60 years, I have known but rarely a family or an individual that was brought up on a liberal supply of butter and bacon who became tuberculous. Moreover, such food fortifies the system against other diseases as well as consumption. It establishes stamina.—Dr. Bell in the Sanitarium.

Remembered Too Late.

Speaking of the queer doings of absentminded people, the following anecdote is related by the London Globe: "A very irritable man left his house one morning to attend a race meeting some distance off. In order that he might have enough money to pay his hotel bill he tied a sovereign in the corner of his handkerchief. In the train he drew his handkerchief from his pocket, and noticed the knot in the corner. 'Now,' he said to himself, 'what was it I wished to remember?' Much thought failed to enlighten him upon the point, and at last, in a fit of passion he hurled the handkerchief out of the window. Then he remembered."

Applying the Rule.

After Sunday school little Ned and his younger cousin, Horton, were permitted to play in the yard on condition that they would be very good and quiet. They had not been out long when Ned's mother heard loud screams. Upon investigating the cause she found her small son sitting on his cousin, pounding him vigorously in spite of Horton's pitiful walls.

"Well, mamma," Ned exclaimed, "I wanted to teach him the golden rule, and he said he wouldn't learn it."—Detroit Free Press.

ORDERED HONORS PAID DEAD.

Commands Ceremonies of Respect to Memories of Baron Von Ketteler and Sugiyama—To Punish Instigators of Anti-Foreign Outrages.

London, Oct. 1.—From Shanghai comes an unconfirmed report that the allies have seized Shan Hai Kwan.

According to Shanghai advices, in addition to the edicts ordering Grand Councillor Kun Kang to offer oblations before the coffin of Baron Von Ketteler and the edict directing that Li Hung Chang's entire plan be followed in regard to the punishment of the princes and high ministers of state responsible for the anti-foreign outrages and the decree ordering that funeral honors be paid in Peking and Tokio to the remains of Sugiyama Akira, the murdered chancellor of the Japanese legation, Emperor Kwang Su has addressed further letters to the czar and mikado renewing his request for their aid in the peace negotiations.

Various opinions are expressed as to the importance of the edicts. The Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post says:

"The 'severe punishment' ordered by Emperor Kwang Su will only mean a money fine. There are traces of Li Hung Chang's hand, under American influence, in the edicts."

On the other hand the Standard's Shanghai correspondent remarks:

"The empress regent now realizes the true nature of the crisis. After consulting the emperor she summoned the court dignitaries, and, on their assembling, while she remained silent, the emperor, in a loud voice, delivered a tirade lasting a couple of hours against the courtiers. Then, in an angry voice, he dismissed them. After this the decrees were issued."

While these have been promulgated, however, feverish war preparations are still reported from Shanghai, and new appointments have been made to the Chinese army and navy.

"The Chinese Official Gazette has resumed publication," says the Peking correspondent of the Morning Post, wiring Sept. 24, "and contains an order directing the Peking officials to follow the court unless their duties here prevent them leaving."

"British looting continues and daily auctions are held at the legation. This is likely to last all winter. Members of the nobility are the heaviest losers, Prince Ching in particular."

RUSSIANS INVESTED MUKDEN.

Emperor and Empress Suffered Great Hardships in Their Flight.

Shanghai, Oct. 1.—The Russians invested Mukden, capital of the province of Liao Tung.

Wang Wen Shao, president of the board of revenue, who accompanied the emperor and empress regent in their flight from Peking, says, in a letter received here that their majesties suffered great hardships, having scarcely any food for three days. They had to ride on camels and were almost deserted by their followers. As the country through which they traveled was being devastated by Tung Fu Hsiang's troops, they were unable to obtain even necessities, and they saved no valuables.

London, Oct. 1.—A dispatch to the Times from St. Petersburg confirms the reports that the town of Kirin surrendered to the Russians without a shot on pre-emptory orders from Prince Ching. The dispatch says that, if similar orders were issued with regard to Mukden, the Russian conquest of Manchuria will be completed. According to the same authority no further reinforcements will be required by the Russian commanders in the far east.

Rockhill Will Urge Viceroy.

Peking, Oct. 1.—Mr. William Woodville Rockhill, special commissioner of the United States left Peking with a cavalry escort for Tien Tsin. He will visit Nankin and the Yangtse valley, examine affairs there and advise the viceroy to memorialize the throne, urging the return of the court to Peking.

Carnegie on the Candidates.

New York, Oct. 1.—In the North American Review Andrew Carnegie attacks the Democratic and Republican platforms, both praises and condemns McKinley and Bryan, but expresses the belief that the country would be less menaced by the election of McKinley.

Fat the Foo of Consumption.

Consumption is most prevalent among those who are stinted or who stint themselves in the use of fat foods. Everybody has learned and employed the knowledge, usually when it is too late, that cod liver oil is good for consumption. Few seem to have learned that food of the same character suitable for the table is preventive of consumption. In the whole course of my professional observation, covering a period of nearly 60 years, I have known but rarely a family or an individual that was brought up on a liberal supply of butter and bacon who became tuberculous. Moreover, such food fortifies the system against other diseases as well as consumption. It establishes stamina.—Dr. Bell in the Sanitarium.

Commands Ceremonies of Respect to Memories of Baron Von Ketteler and Sugiyama—To Punish Instigators of Anti-Foreign Outrages.

London, Oct. 1.—From Shanghai comes an unconfirmed report that the allies have seized Shan Hai Kwan.

According to Shanghai advices, in addition to the edicts ordering Grand Councillor Kun Kang to offer oblations before the coffin of Baron Von Ketteler and the edict directing that Li Hung Chang's entire plan be followed in regard to the punishment of the princes and high ministers of state responsible for the anti-foreign outrages and the decree ordering that funeral honors be paid in Peking and Tokio to the remains of Sugiyama Akira, the murdered chancellor of the Japanese legation, Emperor Kwang Su has addressed further letters to the czar and mikado renewing his request for their aid in the peace negotiations.

Various opinions are expressed as to the importance of the edicts. The Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post says:

"The severe punishment ordered by Emperor Kwang Su will only mean a money fine. There are traces of Li Hung Chang's hand, under American influence, in the edicts."

On the other hand the Standard's Shanghai correspondent remarks:

"The empress regent now realizes the true nature of the crisis. After consulting the emperor she summoned the court dignitaries, and, on their assembling, while she remained silent, the emperor, in a loud voice, delivered a tirade lasting a couple of hours against the courtiers. Then, in an angry voice, he dismissed them. After this the decrees were issued."

While these have been promulgated, however, feverish war preparations are still reported from Shanghai, and new appointments have been made to the Chinese army and navy.

"The Chinese Official Gazette has resumed publication," says the Peking correspondent of the Morning Post, wiring Sept. 24, "and contains an order directing the Peking officials to follow the court unless their duties here prevent them leaving."

"British looting continues and daily auctions are held at the legation. This is likely to last all winter. Members of the nobility are the heaviest losers. Prince Ching in particular."

RUSSIANS INVESTED MUKDEN.

Emperor and Empress Suffered Great Hardships in Their Flight.

Shanghai, Oct. 1.—The Russians invested Mukden, capital of the province of Liao Tung.

Wang Wen Shao, president of the board of revenue, who accompanied the emperor and empress regent in their flight from Peking, says, in a letter received here that their majesties suffered great hardships, having scarcely any food for three days. They had to ride on camels and were almost deserted by their followers. As the country through which they traveled was being devastated by Tung Fu Hsiang's troops, they were unable to obtain even necessities, and they saved no valuables.

London, Oct. 1.—A dispatch to the Times from St. Petersburg confirms the reports that the town of Kirin surrendered to the Russians without a shot on preemptory orders from Prince Ching. The dispatch says that, if similar orders were issued with regard to Mukden, the Russian conquest of Manchuria will be completed. According to the same authority no further reinforcements will be required by the Russian commanders in the far east.

Rockhill Will Urge Viceroy.

Peking, Oct. 1.—Mr. William Woodville Rockhill, special commissioner of the United States left Peking with a cavalry escort for Tien Tsin. He will visit Nankin and the Yangtse valley, examine affairs there and advise the viceroy to memorialize the throne, urging the return of the court to Peking.

Carnegie on the Candidates.

New York, Oct. 1.—In the North American Review Andrew Carnegie attacks the Democratic and Republican platforms, both praises and condemns McKinley and Bryan, but expresses the belief that the country would be less menaced by the election of McKinley.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 96.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1900.

TWO CENTS

Just One Hundred and Thirteen
Offenders Were Gathered In
During Last Month.

A SALOON WAS RAIDED

the City Fund For Breaking
the Law.

IT IS A VERY GOOD MOVE

Another record has been smashed
at police court, and from September
1 to 30 the police department have
gathered in just 113 offenders, beating
the record for July by a few.

Brady Larkins has been wanted by
the police force for some time. He participated in a scrap several weeks
ago in which an Irishman named Da-
laney almost lost his right eye by being kicked.

Chief Thompson met him up town
Saturday evening and informed him he
was wanted by the mayor. He started
down the street with the officer, and
when near the city hall broke away
and ran down the street with the chief
in hot pursuit. Thompson's lack of training told on him and he didn't gain
much. Larkins turned down Washing-
ton street and made for the river.
When he reached that point he got in-
to a skiff and rowed out into the river.
He had but one oar, and did not make
good progress. Brady was finally captured by the chief and Officer Dawson.
Sunday morning he was fined $7 60,
which was paid by his employer.

Mitch Phillips was arrested Sunday
afternoon by Officer Morris on a charge of intoxication. He was assessed $5 60 by Mayor Davidson and
paid the amount.

W. A. Race was arrested Saturday
night by Chief Thompson. A charge
of intoxication was placed against
him. The mayor relieved him of $5 60.

Officer Davidson found Jack Farmer near the depot Saturday night,
and he was drunk. He was arraigned Sunday morning on a charge of intoxication and Mayor Davidson fined
him $5 60. He arranged for the payment of the fine.

Chief Thompson, assisted by Officers
Gill, Dawson and Davidson, made a
raid on the saloon conducted by Mike
O'Malley on Broadway, and found a
nice layout inside. The officers made
their appearance about 4 o'clock and
had no trouble in gaining access to
the place.

Seven men were found loitering in
the saloon and all gave security for
were: John Bloor, James Frank,
William Banams, James Ivory, Albert
Madden, Harry Lloyd and Earl Wil-
burn.

The police went to Dutch Frank's
and Poker Anderson's saloons yester-
day, but made waterhauls, as they
found no person in either saloon.

Ike Gourley, of the street force,
went for a clean shirt Friday evening
and has not been seen since. This is
three absentees, and it is very likely
they will wish they had remained at
work by the time the mayor gets
through with them.

THE BIDS FOR PAVING TRENT-

A Good Premium Was Received for
the Sewer
Bonds.

Council met in special session at
city hall at 1 o'clock with the following members present: Marshall,
Nice, Cripps, Smith, Peach, Arnold,
McHenry, Heddleston.

Bids improving Trentvale street
were opened and were as follows:

J. O. Rinehart, excavation, 40c;
curb, 52c; paving, $1 25.

Ryan & Rinehart, excavation, 40c;
curb, 50c; paving $1 22.

McKinnon Avenue.

Ryan & Rinehart, grading, 28c per cubic yard; John Lutton 24½c per
cubic yard.

The premiums for the $10,000 worth
of sewer bonds were as follows:

Lamprecht Bros., Cleveland, $515-
70; Rudolph Kleybolte & Co., Cincinnati, $571; W. R. Todd & Co., Cincinnati, $460; Feder, Holzmann & Co.,
Cincinnati, $501 25; W. J. Hayes &
Co., Cleveland, $563; Potters National
bank, East Liverpool, $468; Dennison,
Prior & Co., Cleveland, $471.

The bonds were awarded to Ru-
dolph Kley bolte & Co., $571.

Ryan & Rinehart being the lowest
bidder on the improvement of Trent-
vale street Mr. Peach moved they be granted the contract. Nice seconded.

McHenry raised the question whether the improvement could be completed before the bad weather came
on. Nice stated it could be finished
in two weeks.

Contractor Rinehart said it would
not take long, as the grading was all
done.

The vote was then taken, resulting
in Arnold, Cripps, Heddleston, Mc-
Henry and Smith voting no, and Peach, Marshall and Nice yes, losing
the motion by a vote of 5 to 3.

Nice wanted to know, since council
was not disposed to provide for the
improvement of the thoroughfare,
what they proposed to do toward the
accommodation of the people out
there, as there were no walks of any
sort.

On motion it was decided to instruct the street commissioner to
make a cinder path.

James Rinehart was granted the
contract for improving Church alley
from Union street to Broadway.

Council then adopted a new plat of
lots situated on the Anderson property, Lisbon road. The name of the new
plan is Edgewood.

John Lutton will grade McKinnon
avenue, and is to receive 24½ cents
per cubic foot for the work.

CHRISTIAN MINISTERS

Ring Out Hot Denunciations
Against the Dominant Liquor
Traffic

The Red Flag, Indicative of Pesti-
lence, as Represented by
the Brewers.

OLD GLORY WAS DEBAUCHED

There was no uncertain sound in
the denunciations set forth from the
pulpits of East Liverpool on Sunday,
September 30, 1900, respecting the
liquor traffic, the saloons and the late
so-called brewery parade in this city.
Dr. Crawford, pastor of the First M.
E. church, said in part:

"There have been indications of a pestilence in our midst lately. The
red flag indicates the existence of a
pestilence and gives warning to the people. Red flags were numerous on
our thoroughfares the other day. You know what I mean. You know that I have reference to the disgraceful
parade made by the brewery interests
of this community. It is to the cred-
it of our citizens that so few of them
patronized the disgraceful affair. One
prominent official of this city, a man
who makes no secret of the fact
that he favors the saloon, said of this
parade and so-called jubilee:

"It was a great mistake on the part
of the men most interested. Somebody blundered fearfully. Why, you
might as well have flaunted a red flag
in the face of an infuriated bull, as
to have flung out this insult in the
face of the temperance people of the
city, following so closely upon the
heels of the very peculiar election held
here lately."

"It was shameful that our emblem
of liberty was flung out over the ranks
of such a parade. It was a disgrace
to Old Glory, supposed to represent
liberty, truth and right. It was a slander upon our colors and upon our
boys who fight under its folds. Sla-
very was a curse upon our nation, but
rum is a still greater curse. We glory
in the fact that we, as Christians, are
enemies of the liquor demon. We
are glad to be arrayed against this
awful evil. And the enemies of righteousness recognized this fact when
they nailed their flags or advertisements upon the doors of the United
Presbyterian church and the First M.
E. church. They intended it as an insult. We accept it as a compliment.
We want no affiliation with the ac-
cursed traffic. I believe that the traffic will be driven from our land. I believe this as firmly as I believe in
this dear old book, the word of God.
If I did not believe that this awful
evil shall be destroyed in this nation,
I could not believe in this book. The
rum traffic shall be destroyed, and
may God speed the day."

The sentiments of Dr. Crawford met
with warm response from his people,
and hearty "amens" resounded all over
the church as he called upon God to
speed the day.

Rev. W. H. Gladden's sermon yester-
day morning in the Methodist Pro-
testant church was from the text:
"In the name of our God we will set
up our banners," Psalm 20:5.

He began by showing the large part

banners have had in human affairs
in all time. Describing how they have defined contending forces throughout
the history of the world. Warming
to his subject the pastor referred to
the hoisting of banners in our city
and Wellsville last week in glorifica-
tion of the new brewery planted in
our community, over which was placed the Star Spangled Banner of our
country; sanctified by the blood of
our brave fathers, sons and brothers.
He declared this to be not only an
insult to our city, but a disgrace to
the old flag and a reproach to those who had given their lives for it. The
young ladies of Wellsville, who are
reported to have torn down the peculiar looking banners sent out over
that town, he applauded them, but
said it will do little good. The girls
were too late in expressing their dis-
gust and that this was not the best
way to oppose the gigantic evil.

The nailing of newspaper advertisements of the proposed orgies upon two
of the prominent churches of the city
he declared was what might have
been expected, and was of a piece
with the whole insulting program, and
he further believed that if these people could have their way in full, our
churches would all be changed into
breweries and a monument erected
in honor of Bacchanal. He reached
a climax when, with strong feeling,
he described the attracting of little
children into the moral cesspool and
fastening upon their clothes a button
containing a picture of the shameful
place, one of them being his own little daughter, who, in her innocence,
proudly displayed the thing to her
father. He said he also noticed one
of these badges of shame worn by
a small child in a company of children at a funeral recently.

Continuing, he appealed to the
large congregation present to arouse
to a sense of their danger, for, he
said, these people are in earnest,
deadly earnest, and shall we sit down
and allow them to take our town.
"See the mighty host advancing,
Satan leading on;
Mighty men around us falling,
Courage almost gone."

ACCIDENT AT WELLSVILLE.

The car was going west and went off the track into the soft earth.
Dailey had two small children with him, and in saving them was thrown

Either today or tomorrow Chief amount of lawlessness, but is simply carrying out the crusade against the loafers. The notice is as follows:

"Notice is hereby given that any-profane language upon these highways or premises will be prosecuted

to the full extent of the law and ordi-

MEETING AT STEUBENVILLE

Senator Pritchard Made a Ringing
Speech, Full of Good
Points

Peculiar Methods Hold Control In
Some of the Southern States.

THE NEGRO VOTE BLOCKED

There were six coaches on hand at the depot on Saturday night last for the purpose of taking the excursionists to Steubenville. The attendance from this point was much lighter than had been anticipated, and Wellsville had a very light addition to the crowd. But Toronto and Empire responded in the right manner, and a large delegation landed from the train at Steubenville, where the streets were crowded with excusers from various points, while brass bands made merry music, and the marching clubs attracted general attention, especially the Rough Riders, who were clad in handsome khaki uniforms.

C. H. Blazer, of East Liverpool, is an old acquaintance of Senator Pritchard, the two gentlemen hailing from Ashville, North Carolina. Mr. Blazer led the way to the Lowe House and introduced Messrs. Owens, Hill and the writer to Senator Pritchard and Minister Barrett, the visitors receiving a hearty reception. Pritchard is a fine looking man, standing fully six feet in his stockings, and weighing over 200 pounds. Barrett is tall and slender, full of vim, snap and fire, and courteous and agreeable in the extreme.

The opera house was packed when the speakers made their appearance. Hon. J. Dunbar introduced Pritchard in a neat speech, heartily applauded, the ladies, of whom there were many present, joining in the hand clapping. The speaker said in part:

"I notice many ladies present, and I feel safe and secure under such circumstances. As a rule, the cause is right which has the sanction and approval of good women, and this occasion is no exception to the rule. I am glad to meet you, ladies. (Cries of 'good for you, seantor—good point.') I shall deal with politics tonight as with individuals, as political life is embraced in an aggregation of individuals, professing certain principles. In 1892 we gave this country to the Democracy, congress and all. The people wanted a change, and they got it with a vengeance. Democracy took charge of this nation under the most favorable circumstances, and they ended their control in giving the country unexampled stagnation of business and commercial disaster. The Democratic cabinet demonstrated the fact, beyond successful contradiction, that they knew next to nothing about business principle or the proper handling of a circulating medium. There was one hundred million dollars in gold in the reserve fund when they took charge, every dollar worth 100 cents. The currency barometer started downward, and it seemed to droop and wither every time a Democrat breathed upon it. That Democratic cabinet was forced to borrow the sum of $265,000,000 in order to keep that reserve intact and run the government in any kind of decent shape; you are aware of the fact that they did not dare touch the reserve fund, as a Republican administration had made such a measure impossible—had taken care of your funds and of my funds.

What was the business result? Investors became scared and investments were withdrawn; the price of farmers' products went down, down, down; laboring men everywhere were thrown out of employment; soup houses became necessary for the feeding of the hungry people; men patronized these places who had never before dreamed of such a necessity or humiliation; the pangs of hunger are awful and the craving appetite must be satisfied; the people had a change, an awful change, and they awakened to the fact when it was too late. Do you want another such change. Do you want another lesson respecting the conditions which control under Democratic rule? (Cries of no, no, we do not, and we don't intend to have it.) Business and professional men on every hand met with reverses—went down in the common ruin. You know this to be the truth, plain and unvarnished, and it is an awfully sad and forbidding picture. You know the conditions which existed in 1896. The masses wanted another change, and they wanted it all over. (A voice, in stentorian tones: 'And they got it, good and hard, and they liked it to the queen's taste.') Bryan paramounted silver. You know he's great on the paramount, is Billy Jennings Bryan. Silver, in Billy's estimation, was the only thing which would save the republic from ruin. Have you read Billy's predictions respecting Kansas, given in 1896? In the light of unexampled prosperity, Billy's predictions at that time are excruciatingly funny. He predicted that, in case McKinley and a Republican administration should be elected, the nation would go to the demnition bow-wows in the ensuing four years; disaster would ensue on every hand, men could not find employment at any price, and misery and starvation would rule everywhere. In the light of unexampled prosperity and blessings which have controlled this whole nation during the four years specified, Billy's prophecies are the trashiest kind of trash; and the poor fellow is engaged again in talking about on the same line, but under the shadow of misrepresentation and subterfuge. Billy is a calamity howler. Figures talk. Here they are. Before Democracy took charge the per capita was $24 50; when Democracy was forced to relinquish its grip on the government it had gone down to $21 50; in the month of July, 1900, under Republican administration, it reached the magnificent figures of $26 80.

Have you heard of our state banks? The old Timers have. In our own state the money was worth 50 cents on the dollar; in an adjoining state it was worth 25 cents; and when you went over into Tillman's state they would kick you over the border line when you offered it in payment. That was good old Democratic state bank money. Then they had good Democratic money in the south later on, known as scrip, when it cost you one thousand dollars for a good square meal. An officer rode a fine horse, nicely equipped; a bystander wanted to know what sum would buy him. His owner asked for a bid, and reply was made: "I'll give you five thousand dollars." The owner looked the bidder over and sneeringly said: "What's the matter with you? I gave a nigger six thousand dollars to carry that mare this morning."

Now to you farmers Republican rule means much. It means millions of dollars in your coffers, and you know it. You have had bitter experience under Democratic rule, and a burned child dreads the fire. Talk about the sheep industry; if the Democrats had held control for four years more, there wouldn't have been a sheep in the state of Ohio. You are getting almost 50 per cent more for your wool than you did under Democracy. Let me tell you an experience of mine. I was riding along in our section when I noticed a farmer busily engaged in shearing a sheep. I was astonished to find him starting at the hind leg, as I had always seen our shearers start at the head of the animal, and I naturally asked him the reason for this peculiar shearing. He looked up from his work and said: "Pritchard, I voted for the Wilson-Gorman bill, and I've actually been ashamed, ever, since, to look a sheep in the face." (Long continued applause and hand-clapping, many being farmers among the audience.)

My friends, that full dinner pail argument hit Billy Bryan and his followers very hard. He couldn't overcome it in any reasonable or fair manner, and so he piteously said: "You insult the American workingman when you say he is controlled through his stomach, through the thought of a full dinner pail or a full meal." Do we, my friends? Do we insult the best men in the nation, our hope and dependence? Nay, verily, we do him honor in the thought of that full dinner pail, as it is a sure sign of comfort, ease and happiness at home; comfort and plenty for wife, children and self.

Bryan talks about imperialism. My friends, McKinley dreaded war and did all he could to avoid it. Bryan and his backers taunted the president as a weakling and branded him as a coward. They wanted to make political capital. But McKinley is a strong, stalwart and good man, and he would have stood out against all clamor of politicians had not the destruction of the Maine and her gallant and heroic crew ensued; and that act brought on war, and Spain has had time to be sorry. And now the very men who were then clamoring for war are shouting "imperialism" and "dictator" at our grand president." "Consistency thou art a jewel."

That war united the nation. "Yankee Doodle" and "Dixie" sounded over northern and southern soldier alike. Lee, Shafter and Wheeler taught the haughty and overbearing Dons a lesson. The ratification of the treaty of peace was signed by Democrats and Republicans alike. William Jennings Bryan hastened to Washington and used all of his influence in the obtaining of Democratic votes in favor of that ratification. And now I say to you that the flag would not have been fired upon at Manila by the insurgents had not the Democrats of the nation urged them to do so; and I hold Democracy responsible for every drop of blood shed in the war with the Filipinos; every drop of blood shed by the insurgents, and every drop of blood shed by American soldiers. There is no use in mincing matters. This is the plain truth, and it should ring out all over the nation.

Bryan and Democracy cry out for the rights of Aguinaldo and his insurgent followers in the Philippines, and then deliberately rob the black man in Carolina of the same rights, an exact contradiction. They take your pedigree in North Carolina when you vote, and go back to your grandfather, in order to bar the black man from the ballot. Men of the nation, we should have the manhood to do one of two things, either wipe out the fourteenth and fifteenth amendment or enforce them. Down south they count the negro's vote in the Federal enumeration, thus giving them power in the electoral college or vote, and then deny him the ballot as an individual; and when they do so they commit an outrage against Ohio and rob you of your rights in this state. No sane man will dare attempt to deny this statement, for it is a plain statement of existent fact.

"Talk about us being afraid of negro domination in North Carolina. I am chairman of the Republican executive committee in our western part of North Carolina. We find the black man in our section docile and tracta-

ble, behaving himself well if let alone; further, the white voters are double in number to those of the black voters. In our section, no Democrat dares to interfere with the ballot of the black man; we would not permit such interference. In the eastern part of our state they not only steal his vote, but, as I have said, they rob you by means of a false federal enumeration.

And I will say, right here, that if I succeed in having the vote in North Carolina counted as it is cast, North Carolina will as surely go for McKinley in next November as will your state of Ohio.

If you mind nothing else in this rambling talk, mind the words I now use. Don't be over confident. Don't be idle. Talk, work and vote for McKinley and Roosevelt. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Our aim is to give McKinley the biggest majority ever given to any president in the history of the nation. Good night.

[Space forbids the publication of Minister Barrett's speech in today's issue. Read it in tomorrow's issue of the News Review. Barrett can tell you more about Aguinaldo than any other man living. He was with Lawton. He held Colonel Stotzenberg's head upon his knee as that gallant officer gave his last message to the American people. Read Barrett's remarks in tomorrow's issue.]

Let Beer Drinkers and Guzzlers
Read This Article Very Carefully.

THE HERE AND THE HEREAFTER

Insurance Companies and Business
Men Will Settle the Liquor
Problem.

BOOZERS ARE NOT WANTED

This has been one of the questions which has led to no little discussion, pro and con. In its relation to the army canteen, drinking army surgeons have rushed to defend beer and light wines as helpful to the service, while temperance army surgeons have been ready, though not so eager, to oppose these drinks, especially in view of President McKinley's decided preference for them. Yet even these bold public leaders have not ventured to claim that it was advisable for men to drink, simply asserting that they wished the government to provide these drinks to the soldiers, rather than outside parties. One physician, D. H. Mann, who has made a study of the subject, calls attention to the fact that the first result of beer drinking is to abnormally enlarge the stomach. He then continues:

"The next damaging effects are upon the kidneys and liver, so often followed by Bright's disease, or enlargement and softening of the kidneys or an equally alarming change in the liver, by enlargement, fatty deposit or dotted with little hardened points like nail heads, which is called the hob-nailed or drunkard's liver, and in addition to these a long line of other diseased viscera are developed from beer drinking.

"Physicians and surgeons all agree that a beer drinker is a hard subject for a favorable prognosis under medical or surgical treatment for any injury or malady. Tell any physician that his patient is an habitual beer drinker, and he will shrug his shoulders and draw a deep sigh, wishing the patient had not fallen into his hands for treatment. It is difficult to find any vital organ in a beer drinker doing its work as nature designed it should. That is the reason beer drinkers are so often snapped off suddenly.

"It is not to be supposed that there are no damaging results because we cannot always trace them. One writer says: 'The idea that because you stop before you stagger, the system takes no note of the damaging material you put into it, is a ruinous delusion.' Abnormal changes cannot long be endured by the human system, but damaging results are sure to follow, such as impaired nutrition, weakening of nervous system, debility of the circulatory organism deranging the heart's action and the circulation of the vital fluid. Thus the beer drinker does not stand an equal chance with his abstemious neighbor for recovery from any disease or injury."

If such are the results of beer drinking, and no expert will deny the facts as stated, it would appear a suicidal policy for the government to encourage such excesses on the part of American soldiers.

CROKER ANSWERS ROOSEVELT.

Said Republicans as Well as Democrats
Were Interested in Ice Trust.

New York, Oct. 1.—The World to-
day said in part:

Mayor Van Wyck's answer to the
charges of violating the law by invest-
ing in the securities of the American
Ice trust will be in the hands of Attorney General Davies at Albany today.

Attorney General Davies will not
take any action on Mayor Van Wyck's
answer, until Governor Roosevelt returns and sees fit to act.

Richard Croker devoted some time
to reading the telegraphic report of
the speech Governor Roosevelt made
Saturday night at Kansas City in
which the governor attacked the New York Ice trust and mentioned Mr.
Croker and other New York city Democrats by name as being interested in
it. After reading the speech Mr.
Croker said in part:

"I bought stock in the American Ice
company for the same reason that I
have bought other stocks, because I thought it a good investment. And
why does Roosevelt make me and other Democrats, who were interested in
the company, the target at whom his
expetives and denunciations are leveled?
Why does not he attack the Republicans who were interested in the ice trust? The officers and directors of
the ice trust and many of the stock-
holders are Republicans and personal
friends of Roosevelt. In fact they are
the very men who were responsible
for the nomination and election of Roosevelt as governor and his nomination as vice president.

"Why doesn't he attack his friends
who created and maintained the ice
trust and who alone were responsible
for the advance in the price of ice?
Why does he harp on the ice trust
anyhow? As Mr. Bryan says, the ice
trust is purely a local affair and is
not a national issue at all. The Democrats are engaged in a bitter and relentless warfare against all trusts, but
it seems that Roosevelt can see no

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

REFUSED.

The miners of the anthracite region have refused the offer of a 10 per cent advance in wages. Mitchell evidently believes that there are other vital features to be taken into consideration. It is earnestly hoped that mutual efforts to agree and conciliate will yet result in a peaceable and amicable settlement, at an early date.

BUSINESS MEN.

All over the nation the business men and moneyed men are hesitating about investments, fearful of the possibility of Bryan's election, a result which will mean the shutting down of industries, men thrown out of employment, general depression in commercial circles and the lowering of wages. Every lover of a fair day's wage for a fair day's work should be on the alert and cast his vote for McKinley and Roosevelt.

TOOK THE PLEDGE.

Twenty-one hundred men in the anthracite coal regions have taken the oath of total abstinence from the use of intoxicants during the time the present strike continues. This in but two congregations of the Catholic church, under the persuasion of the priests in charge. We commend, very warmly, priests and people. What a lesson in favor of total abstinence? What a sure evidence of the curse consequent upon the use of intoxicants.

ARBITRATION.

Strikes are a curse to every one interested, employers and workmen. They are far-reaching in their pernicious influence. What shall be done to obviate them? Will compulsory national arbitration settle the vexed question? Is not this the proper method? Can there be devised, in human brain, any better method or mode of settlement? The difficulty must be obviated, as not only property, but human life is involved.

SENATOR PRITCHARD.

Read his Steubenville speech in today's issue. Minister Barrett's speech, or part of it, will appear in tomorrow's issue of the News Review. Senator Pritchard hits the Democracy good and hard and effectively. He tells of the Democracy of the south holding full federal enumeration, and at the same time deliberately robbing the negro of his vote. Minister Barrett knows more about Aguinaldo and the Philippines than any other living man. Read Pritchard today—Barrett tomorrow.

READ THEM.

Read the opinions of Rev. Gladden and Pastor Crawford respecting the liquor traffic in general, and the late disgraceful action of the brewery element of East Liverpool in particular. These reverend gentlemen speak in no uncertain tones. We honor them for their staunch adherence to right and truth, and for their condemnation of the greatest evil which curses this great republic; an evil untold, and far worse than that of human slavery. God speed the day when this blot upon our national honor shall be wiped out. Rev. Gorrell, of the Christian church, will preach on the same subject next Sabbath.

COMMENDABLE.

The order issued by Chief of Police Thompson respecting loitering, loafing and profanity in public places and on our thoroughfares and highways is a very commendable one. And now for its enforcement. And, further, we long to commend Mayor Davidson and Chief Thompson for a full enforcement of the laws against Sunday liquor selling, selling after hours, selling to minors and selling liquor in houses of ill fame. We know that these features are very hard features to control; but we know also that they can be controlled, and that the law demands that they shall be controlled. And we sincerely hope that our pres-

MINERS MAY DECLINE.

OFFER OF A 10 PER CENT INCREASE.

It Was Posted by the Reading Company, and Other Companies, It Was Said. Will Follow—One Regiment of Troop Ordered Home.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—An offer of an increase of 10 per cent in miners' wages was inaugurated by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company, and this move, it is stated, will be followed today by similar notices at every colliery in the anthracite region.

It is expected by the operators that this increase in wages will be satisfactory to the men and they believe many of the strikers will take advantage of the offer and return to work. Reports received from several points in the Schuylkill region, where the Reading collieries are located, rather indicate that the mine workers will follow the instruction of their organization officials and remain away from the mines.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1.—A prominent coal operator who is in touch with the negotiations now going on looking to a settlement of the miners' strike, said that on Saturday night it looked favorable for a settlement, but it did not look so favorable last night. The activity of the United Mine Workers in the Schuylkill region and kind of put a damper on things.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 1.—General Gobin ordered the Twelfth regiment home.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 1.—President Mitchell did not know of the posting by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company of a notice granting an increase of 10 per cent to all the employees of its 39 collieries in the Schuylkill valley, until informed of it by a reporter. He did not express the least surprise. He refused to discuss the advance, but it is understood that he knew the 10 per cent increase would be made, and was anxious to see in what manner the information would be conveyed to the men.

The action of the Reading company in directly notifying its men through the posters indicates that the operators will not recede from their position of refusal to recognize the union.

What President Mitchell's first move will be in view of this new phase of the situation is not known. "The operators are evidently not taking me into consideration," he said, "but they will wish they had." Discussing the question of a compromise the national president said it would depend upon circumstances whether a compromise would be considered. When asked if the amount of the increase would be one of the circumstances, he said it would be a consideration.

There is considerable talk that the posting of the notices will cause a break in the strikers' ranks. It is predicted that if this does happen it would mean the end of the strike in a very short time. The labor leaders again reiterated that there will be no break and that the strikers are under perfect control. President Mitchell said he did not order the mine workers' notice to be placed along with that of the Reading company, but he thought it was done as a result of his warning to the strikers last week, to the effect that they should go back to work until ordered to do so by the union officials. The strikers, he said, probably chose the poster scheme, as one of the methods of keeping the men in line.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—The following notice, bearing date of October 1, was posted in the vicinity of all the collieries of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company in the anthracite region.

Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company, Oct. 1, 1900:

This company will pay an advance of 10 per cent on the wages of all men and boys employed at its collieries. This advance takes effect today.

(Signed) R. C. Luther,

Gen. Supt.

Beneath this notice another was posted which read as follows:

"Fellow Mine Workers—United Mine Workers of America:

"Do not pay any attention to this notice posted by Mr. Luther, of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company, but wait until you hear from President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, or until you have decided by your own locals what is right for you to do.

(Signed) C. B. Potter."

Mr. Potter is an officer in the district branch of the United Mine Workers of America. The regular Reading company advances for the last half of September and the first half of October had previously been fixed at a per cent above the $2.50 basis. The scale for the proceeding 30 days was at the $2.50 basis. The advance of 10 per cent offered in the posted notice by the Reading company is separate and distinct from the natural scale increase and hence the total increase to the miners would be 16 per cent.

An illuminated bicycle parade, in which several hundred persons on bicycles will participate will also be a feature of Friday evening.

ENVOY OF FILIPINOS.

Lopez Here in the Interest of His People.

Wants to Tell What the Filipinos Desire, in the Way of Government—Hopes to Be Able to Show Them Capable of Independence.

New York, Oct. 1.—Sexton Lopez, formerly secretary and confident of General Aguinaldo and here on the Cunarder Campana. Lopez is said to have come here at the invitation of Fiske Warren and he expects to explain to the people the Filipino's side of their fight with this country.

Lopez is a small man with a yellow complexion and straight black hair. His secretary, who says that he has known Lopez for eight years, is a colonial from Brisbane, Queensland, and describes himself as a Britisher from head to foot. At the dock there was only one man to meet him, a small sandy haired man who was addressed as Mr. George, but to reporters refused to give his name. He saluted the Filipino and together they began a hunt of the dock for Fiske Warren, who finally made his appearance and the party went to the Imperial hotel.

While coming up from quarantine, Lopez gave out the following signed statement:

"My object in visiting the United States is not to interfere in American politics, but solely to tell the American people who the Filipinos desire in reference to the future government of our country. It has been said that my coming to America is in the interest of certain persons and parties. We, as Filipinos, know no parties in the United States. We have only one desire, viz.: To seek justice for our country.

"Those who desire to give us justice will no doubt be glad to know the wants and conditions of the Philippines. All we want is peace with honor to both parties and I hope to be able to show that the conditions of our country are such as to fit us for the maintenance of that independence.

At the hotel he added to the statement the following:

"The only additional matter to which I need refer is the publication of my book on the Philippines. It is chiefly a reply to Commissioner Schurman's report and will contain views of the Philippines, on past and present events, with notes on history and ethnography of the people."

Boston, Oct. 1.—When Senor Lopez reached this city last night he was immediately visited by newspaper men, but he went to Young's hotel and retired for the night, declining to grant an interview.

FILIPINOS LOST 90 KILLED.

Various Outbreaks Occurred, Though Were Quieter.

Manila, Oct. 1.—The Filipinos in the vicinity of Manila have been more quiet of late, although last Wednesday night there were brisk attacks at Las Pinas and Paranaque, south of Manila, as well as outpost firing at Imus, Bacoor and Muntin Lupa. The American officers are satisfied that the alleged Amigos living in and around the towns in question participated in these attacks.

Official reports have been received of insurgent activity in Zambales province and in Batangas province. Two skirmishes occurred during the week on the Bicol river, in the province of South Camarines. It is estimated that the insurgents lost 90 killed in the various districts.

Two civilians, John McMahon and Ralph McCord, of San Francisco, who started on a business trip for Vigan and Bangued, in Northern Luzon, have not been heard from for three weeks. It is feared that they have been killed or captured by the insurgents.

Capt. Samuel E. Smiley, of the Fifteenth United States infantry, formerly attached to the staff of General Bates in the Philippines, who proceeded to China to join his regiment, but broke down there, owing to the climate and hard work, is returning to the United States on the supply ship Celtic.

HANNA REITERATES HIS ASSERTION.

Says Bryan Promised to Let Croker Name a Cabinet Member.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 1.—Senator Hanna arrived home from New York and left for Chicago. It is his purpose to return to New York about the middle of October, but he expects to be in Chicago the closing week of the campaign. In an interview Senator Hanna said he was pleased with the outlook in New York, where things were looking better than a month ago.

Referring to his recent interview in this city, in which he was quoted as saying Mr. Bryan had promised to let Richard Croker name one of the members of his cabinet if elected, Senator Hanna said: "I have never denied that interview. In fact, what I said about Croker and a cabinet position, has been substantiated during the past week. I knew what I was talking about when I said that Bryan had promised Croker the naming of one of the cabinet officers. I know that Bryan has promised to let Croker distribute the federal patronage in New York, and if Bryan is elected, Croker can put Former Senator Edward Murphy in Bryan's cabinet."

THE OLD SOLDIERS.

Captain John T. Raper Talks of Their Views.

THEY WILL SUPPORT M'KINLEY.

No Reason to Expect Any Favors From Bryan — The President Has Always Proved a True Comrade and a Steadfast Friend to Them.

One of the reasons why the old soldiers will generally support Mr. McKinley is that they are now the principal creditors of the nation, and they want no repudiation of the indebtedness, direct or indirect; no experiment with the dollar in which they are to be paid which is likely to reduce its value. In this demand they are not selfish. They stand for the highest type of national honor, and almost to a man were for paying the bondholders in the best dollar there was to be found on earth. The pensions of many are too small now, and to cut them in two by making the silver dollar the standard, would bring many dependent pensioners to absolute want and distress.

Another reason why the old soldiers will vote for McKinley is that their patriotism is of that robust, confident nature that fears nothing and hopes all things for the nation, and that nation's influence on the freedom and happiness of the whole world. They have seen the happy effect of their victory in the sixties in their own country extend to other nations, in increased freedom and privilege to all the common people, and the weakening of the power and influence of tyrants to the uttermost bounds of the earth.

To them the American flag is the emblem of hope and freedom to the oppressed to every clime, and when it was unfurled in Hawaii, Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines, it meant that the freedom of the great west had invaded—to stay—the dark domain of the far east, the home of ignorance, superstition and tyranny. They are not appalled by the temporary disorder in the Philippines; they look beyond that to the centuries of order, liberty, progress and prosperity which are sure to follow the flag. They are not worried nor frightened by the cry of imperialism, nor the deceitful talk about "the consent of the governed." They heard all that threshed over for four long and weary years a third of a century ago, when that great-hearted prince of the common people, the emancipator Lincoln, was denounced as a hateful tyrant and wicked usurper who was seeking to subvert the liberties of the people, and make himself an emperor.

A third reason why they will support McKinley is that he is their comrade, and bears their interests and welfare in mind as only a comrade can. He may not have done all that each one might wish, and in the way that each thought best, or all that he might have done if he had not the weight of a war on his mind, involving provision for its successful prosecution, and great and intricate questions of responsibility and statesmanship. But he has not been neglectful of his comrades.

Everything that the Grand Army has asked for officially has been granted so far as there has been time and opportunity. The law of 1890 was amended in the exact words proposed by the Philadelphia national encampment, and every national committee of that order having anything to do with legislation, or with the administration of laws for the benefit of veterans, reported to the national encampment at Chicago the active interest of the president in promoting the purpose of their appointment.

The civil service regulations were amended by President McKinley as requested by the committee, so that soldiers who were removed from office for political reasons were reinstated, and the removal of a veteran from public employment without cause was forbidden; and when the committee returned at a later date to report that this regulation was not being fairly administered, he promptly issued an order that no veteran should be removed without a hearing, and until the president had himself examined and approved the papers. Does anyone suppose that Mr. Bryan would thus interpose to protect the veterans of a war which he more than half disapproves, and for whom he has never yet found time to say a kind word?

No man ever heard from McKinley, or the typical young American who is his running mate, one unkind or disrespectful word of the veteran, or of the cause which gives him character and standing. No man ever heard of one kind or grateful word for either from Mr. Bryan, or his running mate, the organizer of the Bloomington, Ill., Knights of the Golden Circle. Mr. Bryan is distinctly unfriendly. He went out of his way as editor of the Omaha World-Herald, to charge that pensions are a fraudulent debt, "because it was never earned by any act of patriotism or heroic service." He charged that the old soldiers were holding up and robbing the government, and noted with a sneer of evident regret "their remarkable longevity." Most of them will take pleasure in living long enough to cast another vote against putting such a man in the presidential chair.

PRESIDENT ATTENDED CHURCH.

Took a Drive With Mrs. McKinley—Spent a Quiet Sunday.

Canton, O., Oct. 1.—President and Mrs. McKinley Sunday morning drove about the city for a time with their guests, relatives of the president, and later the president and his sisters attended church. OHIO IN CONGRESS

FROM 1803 TO 1901.

GEORGE W. WILSON.

Captain George W. Wilson of London was born in Brighton, Clark county, Ohio, Feb. 22, 1840. He was educated in the public schools and at Antioch college, Ohio. He was in the military service during the Civil War for nearly four years. He was a private, a noncommissioned officer, a second and a first lieutenant in the Ninety-fourth Ohio volunteer infantry. He was subsequently commissioned by the president as first lieutenant of the First regiment of United States veteran volunteer engineers, and was subsequently promoted to captain in the same regiment.

He was admitted to the bar in 1866, and began the practice at London, Ohio, where he is still engaged in it. He was twice elected prosecuting attorney of Madison county. He was elected to the lower house of the state legislature in 1871, and elected to the state senate in 1877, serving one term in each of those bodies.

In 1892 he was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Republican, from the Seventh district, Madison, Clark, Fayette, Miami and Pickaway counties, and was re-elected from the same district in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth. His record in congress was highly creditable.

LUTHER M. STRONG.

Colonel Luther M. Strong of Kenton was born near Tiffin, Seneca county, Ohio, June 23, 1838. He attended the common schools and Schuyler's academy, at Republic, Ohio, and subsequently taught school for a number of years. In 1861 he enlisted as a private soldier in the Forty-ninth Ohio volunteer infantry, and was promoted to captain, major, lieutenant colonel and brevetted colonel. His regiment was so reduced in numbers that he failed to receive his commission as colonel, and he resigned March 18, 1865, because of wounds. He commanded his regiment from the fall of Atlanta until after the battle of Nashville. He was severely wounded in the right shoulder at Pickett's Mills, and at Nashville was badly wounded in the left arm.

He studied law after retiring from the military service, and was admitted to the bar in 1867, and began the practice of law at Kenton, Ohio, where he now has an extensive practice. He was a member of the board of education of Kenton for many years, and was elected to the state senate in 1879 and re-elected in 1881.

He was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Republican, in 1892, from the Eighth district, Hardin, Logan, Union, Champaign, Hancock and Delaware counties, and was re-elected from the same district in 1894 to the Fifty-fourth. He made an excellent record in congress.

WILLIAM J. WHITE.

William J. White of Cleveland was born in Canada, Oct. 7, 1850, and migrated to the United States in 1857. He was educated in the common schools, and when a young man entered and still continues in business as a wholesale dealer and manufacturer, with large interests also in shipping, mining, farming and stock raising.

He was elected mayor of West Cleveland, as a Republican, in 1889. In 1892 he was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Republican, from the Twentieth district, a part of Cuyahoga and Lake and Medina counties.

WINFIELD S. KERR.

Winfield S. Kerr of Mansfield, Richland county, graduated from the law department of the Michigan university, was admitted to the bar, and began the practice of his profession in Mansfield, where he is still engaged in it.

For many years he has been one of the prominent figures in the politics of his native county and the state. During his legislative career he proved himself to be both a strong and incisive debater, and generally carried conviction to his hearers.

He was elected to the senate of the Sixty-eighth general assembly in 1887, and to the Sixty-ninth in 1889, from the joint Twenty-seventh-Twenty-ninth senatorial district. He declined a third election to the state senate in 1891.

In 1894 he was elected to the Fifty-fourth congress from the Fourteenth district, as a Republican, the district consisting of Richland, Ashland, Huron, Knox and Lorain counties, and was re-elected to the Fifty-fifth in 1896, and the Fifty-sixth in 1898. He presided over the Republican state convention of 1899, held at Columbus, June 1 and 2. Mr. Kerr's course in congress has been generally satisfactory to his constituents.

GEORGE P. IKIRT.

Dr. George P. Ikirt of East Liverpool was born near West Beaver, Columbiana county, in 1852. He was educated in the common schools and followed the profession of teaching for some years. He began the study of law, but abandoned it because of failing health.

Later he took up the study of medicine, and took a preparatory course in the Columbus Medical college, and in 1877, graduated from the College of Medicine and Surgery in Cincinnati. After five years' practice in East Liverpool he attended the Bellevue Hospital Medical college in New York city, and graduated from that institution in 1883.

He returned to East Liverpool and resumed the practice of his profession. He established the East Liverpool Crisis, a Democratic newspaper, in 1884, and conducted it many years. He was defeated for congress by William McKinley, Jr., in 1888, and in 1892 was elected to the Fifty-third congress, as a Democrat, from the Eighteenth district, Columbiana, Mahoning and Stark counties, and served one term.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The Monroe doctrine of "America for Americans," not having run afoul of any European complications of consequence, it is the Democratic pretense that Bryan's extension of it into Asia and into the very hotbed of all the contentions of the nations for new territory, will be mild and peaceful upon our part. Who can suppose such

to be the case for a single minute? Our full possession and authority in the Philippines might be respected, but our mere guardianship would not last long before the hunger of some voracious Bear, or Lion, or Imperial Eagle.

Philosophy is an extremely agreeable companion to people in easy circumstances.—Brooklyn Life.

Fat the Foe of Consumption.

Consumption is most prevalent among those who are stunted or who stint themselves in the use of fat foods. Everybody has learned and employed the knowledge, usually when it is too late, that cod liver oil is good for consumption. Few seem to have learned that food of the same character suitable for the table is preventive of consumption. In the whole course of my professional observation, covering a period of nearly 60 years, I have known but rarely a family or an individual that was brought up on a liberal supply of butter and bacon who became tuberculous. Moreover, such food fortifies the system against other diseases as well as consumption. It establishes stamina.—Dr. Bell in the Sanitarium.

Remembered Too Late.

Speaking of the queer doings of absentminded people, the following anecdote is related by the London Globe: "A very irritable man left his house one morning to attend a race meeting some distance off. In order that he might have enough money to pay his hotel bill he tied a sovereign in the corner of his handkerchief. In the train he drew his handkerchief from his pocket, and noticed the knot in the corner. 'Now,' he said to himself, 'what was it I wished to remember?' Much thought failed to enlighten him upon the point, and at last, in a fit of passion he hurled the handkerchief out of the window. Then he remembered."

Applying the Rule.

After Sunday school little Ned and his younger cousin, Horton, were permitted to play in the yard on condition that they would be very good and quiet. They had not been out long when Ned's mother heard loud screams. Upon investigating the cause she found her small son sitting on his cousin, pounding him vigorously in spite of Horton's pitiful walls.

"Well, mamma," Ned exclaimed, "I wanted to teach him the golden rule, and he said he wouldn't learn it."—Detroit Free Press.

Went All the Way.

It is said that the reason why there are no snakes in New Zealand is that it is at the direct antipodes of Ireland, and that when St. Patrick banished the snakes from Ireland his blessing went right through the earth and banished the snakes from New Zealand also.

TIRADE BY EMPEROR.

Kwang-Su Denounced and Then Dismissed Courtiers.

ORDERED HONORS PAID DEAD.

Commands Ceremonies of Respect to Memories of Baron Von Ketteler and Sugiyama—To Punish Instigators of Anti-Foreign Outrages.

London, Oct. 1.—From Shanghai comes an unconfirmed report that the allies have seized Shan Hai Kwan.

According to Shanghai advices, in addition to the edicts ordering Grand Councillor Kun Kang to offer oblations before the coffin of Baron Von Ketteler and the edict directing that Li Hung Chang's entire plan be followed in regard to the punishment of the princes and high ministers of state responsible for the anti-foreign outrages and the decree ordering that funeral honors be paid in Peking and Tokio to the remains of Sugiyama Akira, the murdered chancellor of the Japanese legation, Emperor Kwang Su has addressed further letters to the czar and mikado renewing his request for their aid in the peace negotiations.

Various opinions are expressed as to the importance of the edicts. The Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post says:

"The 'severe punishment' ordered by Emperor Kwang Su will only mean a money fine. There are traces of Li Hung Chang's hand, under American influence, in the edicts."

On the other hand the Standard's Shanghai correspondent remarks:

"The empress regent now realizes the true nature of the crisis. After consulting the emperor she summoned the court dignitaries, and, on their assembling, while she remained silent, the emperor, in a loud voice, delivered a tirade lasting a couple of hours against the courtiers. Then, in an angry voice, he dismissed them. After this the decrees were issued."

While these have been promulgated, however, feverish war preparations are still reported from Shanghai, and new appointments have been made to the Chinese army and navy.

"The Chinese Official Gazette has resumed publication," says the Peking correspondent of the Morning Post, wiring Sept. 24, "and contains an order directing the Peking officials to follow the court unless their duties here prevent them leaving."

"British looting continues and daily auctions are held at the legation. This is likely to last all winter. Members of the nobility are the heaviest losers, Prince Ching in particular."

RUSSIANS INVESTED MUKDEN.

Emperor and Empress Suffered Great Hardships in Their Flight.

Shanghai, Oct. 1.—The Russians invested Mukden, capital of the province of Liao Tung.

Wang Wen Shao, president of the board of revenue, who accompanied the emperor and empress regent in their flight from Peking, says, in a letter received here that their majesties suffered great hardships, having scarcely any food for three days. They had to ride on camels and were almost deserted by their followers. As the country through which they traveled was being devastated by Tung Fu Hsiang's troops, they were unable to obtain even necessities, and they saved no valuables.

London, Oct. 1.—A dispatch to the Times from St. Petersburg confirms the reports that the town of Kirin surrendered to the Russians without a shot on pre-emptory orders from Prince Ching. The dispatch says that, if similar orders were issued with regard to Mukden, the Russian conquest of Manchuria will be completed. According to the same authority no further reinforcements will be required by the Russian commanders in the far east.

Rockhill Will Urge Viceroy.

Peking, Oct. 1.—Mr. William Woodville Rockhill, special commissioner of the United States left Peking with a cavalry escort for Tien Tsin. He will visit Nankin and the Yangtse valley, examine affairs there and advise the viceroy to memorialize the throne, urging the return of the court to Peking.

Carnegie on the Candidates.

New York, Oct. 1.—In the North American Review Andrew Carnegie attacks the Democratic and Republican platforms, both praises and condemns McKinley and Bryan, but expresses the belief that the country would be less menaced by the election of McKinley.
